Guerrillas May Get Amnesty To Halt Bloody Greek War

NEW GOVERNMENT MAY PROMISE JOBS TO LEFTISTS

Report States Relentless Fight Will Be Waged If Attacks Continue

COALITION NEGOTIATIONS CLAIMED NEAR COMPLETION

ATHENS, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Informants said tonight that a new coalition cabinet being formed to govern Greece would offer a general amnesty to all guerrillas and would guarantee them jobs if the fighting now going on in the northern part of the country ends within a month.

If the attacks by leftist units against Greek army troops are not stopped, however, the government will wage what the sources described as a "relentless fight against the criminal minority."

The cabinet, the informants added, plans to hold general elections as soon as possible.

The speaker of the house announced to the Greek parliament today that negotiations for a coalition government were "nearing completion" and the lawmakers promptly adjourned until Monday to await developments.

Those same words were pronounced earlier by populist leader Constantinos Tsaldaris and Themistokles Sophoulis, who conferred for two hours in the latter's suburban residence on the new and broadened cabinet being formed.

Sophoulis was expected to be premier with the ministries of public order and justice falling to his liberal

PENSIONS SOUGHT FOR WORLD WAR 1

V. F. W. Seeks $75 Monthly For Doughboys Who Licked Kaiser's Troops

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—(P)—The 15th encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today voted to make pensions for World War I Veterans the organization's "number one legislative objective for the coming year."

In a 10-minute speech from the floor at Public Hall, Congressman James E. Van Zandt, a former Commander-in-Chief of the organization, demanded VFW provide for passage of HR667 to provide $75-a-month pensions for World War veterans at age 65.

Citing American spending of $22-79,000,000 for aid to foreign nations, Van Zandt asked how were "the American people going to turn down a request from the VFW for World War I pensions when we spend such a figure on foreign countries?"

Van Zandt estimated the $75-a-month pensions would cost about $75,000,000 in the first year and eventually reach a peak of about two billion dollars annually.

He said there are 3,727,000 World War I veterans alive today, 65,541 of whom have reached 65.

The encampment approved with a single dissenting vote a resolution offered by the Virginia department to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

The lone dissenter was an individual, who voiced his no from the floor and was not identified by name.

Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, made the only major address of sessions today, third day of the encampment which ends Tuesday. Nearly 20,000 delegates are registered and twice that number of auxiliary members and guests were on hand.

Vandegrift warned "this is no time to stave karms and go to sleep." He recommended a larger regular military

NAB NAZI PRISONER WHO FLED ENGLAND

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(P)—State police announced today the capture of a German prisoner of war they said escaped from a stockade in England, stowed away on the liner Queen Mary last month, and fled to update New York after escaping detection in New York City.

State Police Inspector Charles Lame identified the prisoner as Martin Eppich, 21, formerly of Munich, a one-time corporal in the 12th Panzer division.

La Forge said Eppich was apprehended shortly after midday near here and as being held in the Troy state police barracks for army authorities on New York City.

President Escapes Injury As Car Skids

Limousine Carrying Truman, Top Dignitaries, Halted With One Wheel Over Precipitous Brazilian Cliff

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 6.—(AP)—A narrow escape from a possibly serious mishap when his car skidded on a slippery mountain road enlivened an already exciting schedule for President Truman today on the eve of his departure from Brazil after a six-day visit.

A big, black open White House limousine carrying the president and several others of his party skidded while climbing the hair-pin turns to the home of Ernesto G. Fontes, wealthy Brazilian business man, for lunch. The residence, perched on the mountainside, overlooks the popular Copacabana district.

None the worse for his experience, Mr. Truman laughingly invited reporters and photographers to help push as the heavy automobile was shoved back so it could continue the trip. When this correspondent and other reporters saw the car, the left rear wheel was over a retaining wall curb with two feet to spare from a precipitous cliff.

James J. Rowley, chief of the White House secret service detail, told newsmen that the "president was never in any danger at any time." He said a pile of rocks at the side of the road would have prevented it from going over. Rowley was in the president's car.

The secret service men would not permit news photographers to take pictures of the unexpected development.

A motorcycle escort, confronted by a particularly steep incline, had become bogged down in mud and was

Work Stoppages At Jennings, Lake Charles Predicted; 4 Crowley Mills Idle

CROWLEY, La., Sept. 6.—(P)—Spread of a rice mill work stoppage to Jennings tomorrow and to Lake Charles next week were predicted today by Leo Carter, international Teamsters Union representative.

Four Crowley mills already have been affected by the work stoppage. Carter said a walkout vote was slated in Jennings tomorrow and that another strike vote would be called in Lake Charles soon thereafter.

Meanwhile, announcement was made following a meeting of a farmers committee with E. H. (Lige) Williams, state A. F. of L. chairman, that N. Smith Hoffpauir, district attorney and former state representative, had been selected by both parties to effect an understanding between the farmers and striking workers.

Union officials have said that they do not wish to injure farmers. Farmers concerned over the possibility of losing their crops if mills should close

2 YOUTHS, RED-HAIRED WIFE CHARGED IN AMBUSH SLAYING

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Two 'teen-aged boys, products of a broken home, and a red-haired farm wife who befriended them today faced a murder charge in the ambush shooting of her husband as the climax to a five-months slaying plot.

The body of the victim, 30-year-old Frank G. Upton of Williamston, Mich., was dug from a shallow grave in a refuse dump near Dexter, Mich., today.

Held to await court arraignment on murder charges were Upton's attractive wife, Josephine Marie, 29, and Richard Gorman, 15, and his brother, Alfred, 13.

Prosecutor Charles McLean said that the two boys and the woman

Monroe Youth Dies Of Crash Injuries

Auto Wreck On Highway 80 Proves Fatal To James Meyer; Car Turns Over In Ditch, Rams Another Then Hits House

Injuries suffered in an automobile wreck on U. S. 80 about 2 miles west of Monroe early yesterday morning proved fatal to James F. Meyer, 20, of 1700 North Third street. He died at approximately 8:30 a. m. in a local hospital without regaining consciousness after he was pulled from the wreckage of the car nearly six hours earlier.

Parish Coroner Dr. J. T. French said the cause of death was a concussion of the brain and severe internal injuries.

According to state police and various witnesses, the accident occurred when Meyer, at the wheel of a 1939 Ford coach, swung far over to the left side of the road in passing another car.

The outside wheels of the Ford slipped off the road, caught in a pile of gravel, and spun the car into a ditch where it overturned.

The automobile then plowed across

JEWISH REFUGEES BACK IN GERMANY

Ringleaders Of Exodus Removed From Ships; 4,400 Await Disembarkation

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 6.—(P)—The 4,400 Jews of the exodus of 1947 returned to Germany aboard three deportation ships today and British security officers were reported to have removed their rings. ders in preparation for the disembarkation—peaceful or otherwise—beginning tomorrow.

The three British transports anchored at a rendezvous in the Elbe estuary on the 57th day after the Jews had embarked secretly from France on a voyage which took them within sight of Palestine.

All physical communication with the Exodus Jews was cut off immediately by British naval orders.

Although the naval officer in charge at Cuxhaven denied that some Jews were removed from the three ships, reliable private sources insisted such steps were taken secretly as soon as the ship anchored.

Norbert Wilhelm, vice-chairman of the central committee for liberated Jews in the British zone, said the committee had heard that some Jews were taken off on the ground they were Communists and "agitators."

Another Jewish official, who declined to be named, said he had a

GIRL DENIES GUILT IN YULETIDE SLAYING

LACONIA, N. H., Sept. 6.—(P)—Barbara Roberts, 20-year-old mill worker, pleaded innocent in municipal court today to a charge of murder in the yuletide season shooting of her father whose body lay buried for more than eight months under boards of a sheep pen on the family farm.

She was held without bail by Judge Harry E. Trapp for the Oct. 28 session of Belknap county superior court on the charge brought yesterday after County Solicitor William W. Keller said she confessed she shot her father, Sylvester, 32.

Reaffirm Demand Outlawing A-Bomb

Soviet Position Restated By Gromyko In Letter Answering 11 Questions Submitted By British U. N. Delegate

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Russia declined today to waive the veto on any sanctions, even of a minor nature, against violators of a proposed pact outlawing atomic weapons.

The Soviet Union also reaffirmed its demand for an immediate pact prohibiting the atomic bomb.

This re-statement of the Russian position was contained in answers by Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, to 11 questions put to him Aug. 11 by Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the United Nations atomic energy commission.

The answers show that:

1. Russia insists on the veto on atomic matters.

2. Russia demands that the United Nations security council decide on the question of sanctions against violators of the proposed convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons.

The veto lies in the voting arrangement in the security council by which one of the great powers—Russia, Britain, China, France and the United States—can kill with a negative vote any important question approved by the council majority.

3. Russia still feels that the immediate prohibition of atomic weapons is an urgent task.

Sir Alexander in his letter to Gromyko said the questions were brought together for the first time as a single paper. The British delegation indicated it did not expect an early answer but Gromyko submitted his replies as the atomic commission drove to complete its second report to the security council. The answers were not expected to play any part in this report, which is virtually complete.

The queries were submitted in writing after long debate this summer on just what Gromyko meant in his

FARLEY TO BACK TRUMAN IN 1948

Former Postmaster General Says He Will Support Nomination Of President

LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 6.—(P)—James A. Farley, former postmaster general and former chairman of the National Democratic committee, was quoted today by the Lynchburg Advance as saying he "will support the nomination of Harry S. Truman as Democratic candidate for president in 1948, and support it with pleasure."

Here to speak at a cattlemen's meeting, Farley told a Lynchburg Advance reporter:

"I like Mr. Truman very much personally and want to see him elected. The election is too far off even to estimate its final outcome," said the man who, before splitting with the late President Roosevelt, predicted his election even down to the individual states.

"The domestic and foreign situation at the time will really determine the results," he said.

Pointing to the reluctance of the American people to "change horses in the middle of the stream," Farley said if the foreign situation becomes "more serious" the present administration might not lose votes.

However, he said, the domestic situation will largely affect party chances. A state of comparative prosperity in the election year will help the "administration in power," but a continuation of the present "high prices" will hurt it, he declared, continuing:

There is no question that Mr. Truman has greatly enhanced his chance of election since the first of the year."

The Republican Congress has been "unable to keep its promises to the electorate," and this has "severely damaged" the position of the Republican party, he asserted.

GIRL DESCRIBES WILD RIDE WITH GIN-SWILLING GUNMAN

FLINT, Mich., Brown-eyed, blonde Alice Metteri an 18-year-old stenographer, was recovering today from a wild, six-hour ride with a gin-swilling gunman who abducted her from her escort following a robbery outside the gates of the Michigan State fair in Detroit.

Forest Conrad, 30-year-old parolee from the Southern Michigan state prison, was held by police who accused him of the abduction and a getaway theft at gunpoint of a taxi cab.

No charge was placed against him but authorities here said he would be arraigned on armed robbery counts later unless Detroit police decide to press a kidnap charge.

Mr. Metteri, petite and shapely, was shaken but not injured during a ride in which two cars were wrecked. "He never once harmed me, but he

MANY NATIONS REPORTED 'HANGING ON THE ROPES'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(P)—New reports of the gravity of Europe's food and fuel situation were sounded here today.

Senator Young (R-N.D.) just back from a food conference at Geneva said:

"The food situation in Europe is desperate and far worse than last year."

Paul H. Nitze, acting director of the office of international trade policy, state department, said that pending development of the Marshall aid plan, "many European countries, including France and Italy and Great Britain, are hanging on the ropes."

"We believe," he said during an NBC broadcast, "that our time schedule will have to be stepped up drastically in order to get aid before the end of the year."

Senator Young went to Geneva with Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) and Rep. Murray (R-Wis.) as congressional

BILLION DOLLARS LOST IN EXPORTS

American Industry Hit By British, French, Australian Cuts In Imports

LONDON, Sept. 6.—(P)—American industry has lost about $1,000,000,000 worth of business through the recent British, French and Australian decisions to cut imports, a survey showed today.

All three nations critically need the goods they have decided not to buy. But all say they must conserve their dwindling supplies of dollars for bare essentials.

Britain is slashing her imports to save at the rate of $912,000,000 a year. Virtually all of the savings will be in dollars.

France decreed a savings of $250,000,000 in dollars alone, during the next six months.

Australia cut her imports by $40,000,000, all in dollars, per year.

Most of the dollar savings will be effected in the United States, but smaller dollar countries, especially Canada, will feel the pinch, too.

Ensured in her worst economic crisis Britain's orders for savings in her payments to overseas sellers in her

TIP CAUSES ARREST OF NEGRO MAN, WIFE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—(AP)—A Negro and his wife were held by police today and all because of their generosity in tipping a cab driver $35.

After a wild spending spree yesterday which carried them in and out of a number of bars, the couple caught the cab. After they tipped the driver, the latter became suspicious of the money he received and turned it over to city detectives.

Today detectives said the $35 put them on the trail of $7,000 in counterfeit bills which they recovered from the couple, and from the bars visited by them.

The Negro man told police he had no idea the bills were bogus. He said he was standing on a street corner when an automobile drove by and somebody pitched a brown paper bag at his feet. The bills were in the bag, he said.

"I felt like a millionaire," he told police.

RELIEF PURCHASES HIGH PRICE CAUSE

Larcade Blames Government Buying Policy As Responsible For Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Rep. Larcade (D-La.) held today that government policies in buying food for foreign relief are "largely responsible" for the nation's "skyrocketing" food prices.

He said in a statement that the government insists on buying "only the best and basic foods," such as grains, fats and oils, for the program and refuses to heed a congressional mandate to use surplus farm products.

"Unless the economy of the United States is taken into consideration," he continued, congress may demand a change in administrators or "discontinue the program entirely."

Larcade called the purchasing policies "arbitrary and unreasonable" and said army and state department officials claim that "these surplus foods do not contain an equal amount of calories as do grains and fats and oils."

Yet, he added, congress is providing funds for the foreign relief program adopted an amendment directing the government to buy surplus farm commodities "as far as possible."

Larcade said "the carry-over of surplus canned foods of all kinds throughout the United States from last year may well upset the economy of the country unless some of these canned foods are purchased in the relief programs."

For a week, he added, he has been here with a constituent, J. F. Dexauche, whom he described as "the largest sweet potato handler in the United States."

He said Dexauche, in calls on all agencies making the relief purchases, offered canned sweet potatoes delivered in Hamburg, Germany at a lower price than in Chicago "but they were not interested."

Larcade said the agriculture department probably will be forced to buy the sweet potato crop now being harvested under its price support program and "the American taxpayer will make another contribution and take another loss."

VET MOVES FAMILY INTO AUTO TO LIVE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Former GI Kenneth I. Messer, 23, parked his 10-year-old sedan, his wife and two babies on a downtown street last night and announced he would stay until he finds a place to live.

He was still there today. A few offers had dribbled in and he planned to take a taxi to look at some of the places, leaving his family in the parked car.

"This has been our home for the past six weeks, except when we hired a tourist cabin to clean up the children," Messer said. "I have the money for a modest home. I'm not asking for charity."

"This is hardly the place to fix the baby's bottle," chimed in Mrs. Messer as she prepared lunch for Sally Anne, aged seven weeks. The other child is Kenneth, Jr., 15 months.

The old sedan was emblazoned with signs appealing to landlords.

Messer said they had driven to Charleston from Bridgeport, Conn., because he worked here before the war "and this is the town for me." He already has several offers of jobs.

CLAIM LABOR ACT 'WORKING WELL'

Senator Claims Predictions Of Heavy Industrial Strife
Not Borne Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(P)—Senator Ball, Republican, Minnesota, said today the Taft-Hartley labor act "is working very well" and is being "quite generally observed by both employers and unions."

Ball, who was one of the authors of the act and who heads a Senate-House committee set up to study its operation, made these points at a news conference:

1. "The predictions that were made that the act would inaugurate a period of heavy industrial strife have not been borne out," and the labor relations scene is more tranquil than it has been in years.

2. "I haven't seen anything (in the act) that needs changing."

3. NLRB General Counsel Robert Denham was clearly within his rights in ruling that top officials of the A. F. L. and the C. I. O. must sign pledges that they are not Communists, although Congress did not consider the matter.

4. The joint study committee, which is required to report on the laws' operation by next March 1, will probably hold some hearings in the late fall.

5. The committee has already done considerable work on a study of the long-term labor relations of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the Botany Worsted Mills, Passaic, N. J., and will make similar studies of other firms.

6. The committee will steer clear of taking a role in any current labor dispute.

Ball said he is not concerned about clauses written into contracts in an attempt to absolve unions of liability to damage suits for failure to live up to the contract.

In all the cases which have come to the committee's attention, he said, the union agreed to take every possible action against wildcat strikes, instructing their members to cross unauthorized picket lines. They thus have taken a stand against the sort of thing Congress was trying to halt, Ball said.

He declared he believes A. F. L. President William Green and C. I. O. President Philip Murray will sign anti-Communist pledges if the NLRB denies their affiliated unions a place in representation elections.

He said the study committee has abandoned its originally announced plan to study ten firms with the "best" labor relations and ten with the "worst" because "we soon found you couldn't differentiate on that basis." The firms whose labor relations are to be studied, he said, will be chosen for diversification of products, geographical area and the types of unions involved—independent, A. F. L. and C. I. O. Ball did not say on what basis the first two firms were chosen.

Senators Sweep Third Straight From New York,
Wynn Wins 15th

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The New York Yankees equaled their season's longest losing streak when they dropped their third straight to Washington today, 9-6, using five pitchers in an attempt to halt the Senators' 12-game attack.

Early Wynn hung up his 15th win but he was roughed up in the seventh when the Yankees scored four times and Milo Candini was rushed to the rescue.

Carl Drews, the loser, Bill Bevens, Don Johnson, Randy Gumpert and Rookie Dick Starr saw action as Manager Bucky Harris dug deep into his barrel of reserve pitchers in search of a stopper.

Louisiana State Promoting Title As Grid's Coming 'Big Name' Player

Talented Tiger Groomed To Spearhead Bengals' Shift
To 'T' Formation

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 6.—(Special)—They may sing of their Lujacks, their Gilmeres, and their Laynes, but the biggest "name" in football for 1947 is Yelberton Abraham Tittle, Jr., the imposing tactician who Louisiana State's talented touchdown tosser from Texas.

And lest the unwary reader assumes that Tittle's title is his only claim to fame, let it be remembered that Y. A. has for three years borne the brunt of the Bengals' offensive burden, in a manner that has often smacked of the spectacular.

Here in Tigitown, they say—with plenty of justification—that Tittle raised the Tiger "T" from a cub. The burly Texan began his college career as a better-than-average tailback in Bernie Moore's single wing, and when the "Old Fox" decided that 1945 was the year to step up his attack with a few "T" tactics, Y. A. looked like the man to run the show.

As it turned out, he was. Naturally, there were plenty of stumbles and fumbles while Tittle and his mates were learning the intricacies of the new system, and virtually the entire season was spent in ironing out the kinks, which Y. A. completed 11 out of 13 passes while sparking the Tigers to a 33-0 victory over Tulane in the season's final, both Tittle and the "T" had arrived on the L. S. U. campus.

Last fall, Yelberton took up where he had left off in '45, and it was his superlative pitching from down under that paced the Bayou Bengals to their finest season in a decade. The air offensive began in the opening game with Rice, when Tittle passed for his team's only touchdown, and continued through the next nine games with devastating regularity. Ninety-five times the Texan cocked his arm, and 45 times the hog hide found its mark for 781 yards and 13 touchdowns. The Tiger "T"—master was never completely stopped until that New Year's date in Dallas' snow-bound Cotton Bowl stadium. Even then, it was frozen fingers rather than Arkansas defenses that Y. A. settle for a scoreless tie.

While those unerring aerials are Tittle's chief stock-in-trade, however, he is also a master of the trick. The Bengal Blockbuster has been acclaimed as one of the nation's classiest ball-handlers and his cleverness at hiding the leather has sent many an opposing tackle off on a fruitless chase after the wrong Tiger. No sprinter, Tittle nevertheless has demonstrated that he knows what to do with the ball under his arm. He pranced into pay dirt twice last fall, once on a 65-yard runback with a Harry Gilmer pass, and once on a better-executed end sweep. Y. A. is a better-than-average defensive back, especially tough against enemy aerials, and can be called upon to do an adequate punting job in emergencies.

But perhaps the outstanding quality of this handy citizen, next to his passing proficiency, is his apparent indestructibility, which has enabled him to stay in there and take his inevitable pounding for an average of 52 minutes per game over the last two seasons. Never in his three-year stay at Tigitown has Y. A. been injured seriously enough to bring about his withdrawal from the battlefield.

Of all the stars in Yelberton's crown, the brightest is his amazing three-year record against L. S. U.'s traditional rival, Tulane. Y. A.'s older brother, Jack, was a standout guard for the Wave several years ago and for the factor of family rivalry must have been mighty strong in the Tulane battles. Whatever the reason, "Little Brother" has made it his annual business to pass the Greenies clean out of the stadium.

The saga began back in '44, when Yelberton was a fresh tailback. Going into the big tussle with a fair reputation as a chucker, the Texan left both the Wave and the fans flabbergasted by completing the first 12 passes he threw, and wound up with a 15-for-17 record for the afternoon. In '45 he came back under the "T" with the results already outlined, and last season he continued on six of eight tries, including three scoring tosses. The three-year total against Ole Lou's bitterest rival reads 32 completions in 38 attempts, seven of them for touchdowns. Is it any wonder that the very name of Yelberton Abraham produces stark panic on the Tulane campus?

L. S. U.'s "man-under" hails from the thriving city of Marshall, in Northeast Texas, and was a full-fledged four-sport star while prepping there. Since matriculating at Tigitown, however, Y. A. has devoted himself entirely to football and according to his friends, would play it the year 'round if given the chance. He's a thorough-going student of the game and his coaches say that if he has a fault as a "T" quarterback, it's an incorrigible tendency to experiment with variations of his own.

His fondest ambition is to do the mole skins of a professional eleven after his graduation, and the chances are heavily in his favor. Those in the know are unanimous in the opinion that this 190-pound six-footer is just the sort of ivory that the scouts are combing the bushes for. But that'll have to wait. Right now the lad is getting set to brand that man-killing monicker on the hides of nine more college opponents this fall.

Mr. M'Beth will be assisted by Doyle Penton, and both directors will confer with the students toward arranging an all-round selected program in physical education for the coming school year.

The first meeting for this purpose is called for this Tuesday, September 9 at the school. St. Matthew's girls' athletics classes are under the direction of Sister Bridget who will be aided by an instructor to be appointed at a later date.

GIANTS' HOMERS UPSET DODGERS BY 3 TO 2 SCORE

Walker Cooper And Jack
Lohrke's Blows Blast
League Leaders

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Walker Cooper's 30th homer of the year and second of the afternoon broke up a pitching duel between Ralph Branca and Rookie Ray Poat with two out in the ninth inning today to smash the Brooklyn jinx with a 3-2 New York Giants victory. Jack Lohrke's homer in the seventh provided the other Giant score.

The loss sliced the Dodgers' National League lead over St. Louis to 6 1/2 games with 19 to play.

WINNSBORO GOES TO JENA FOR 5TH TITLE TILT TODAY

Sox, Leading Series 3-1, Needs One More Win To Sew Up Crown

JENA, La., Sept. 6.—(Special)—The Winnboro Red Sox, defending champions of the North Louisiana League, need only one more victory to clinch the circuit's crown for the second successive season, but the LaSalle Oilers of Jena, two games down in the title playoffs, hope to tighten the race with victory in the fifth game of the series at the Oilers' Good Pine Park tomorrow.

The Red Sox, with steady pitching and dependable hitting have won three games against the Oilers' one to date, and if Jena expects to stop the Franklin parish diamond crew the locals will have to force the series to seven games and win all remaining contests.

It's quite a chore for the Oilers, but Jena has come up off the floor before, and the Oilers appear satisfied that they can force the series to go a little further than Sunday's fifth struggle.

Jena has attracted its biggest crowds of the season during the current series and another big turnout is expected tomorrow.

Manager Lantz Womack of the Sox is expected to send Ray Hoffman or Paul Delacroix to the mound for the fifth game since both are ready with a week or more of rest. Hoffman pitched the victory here last Sunday with a four-hit performance, and Delacroix, former Oiler hurler, hasn't been called to the mound since Wednesday a week ago.

Since Tom Perry did the chunking for Jena at Winnboro last Wednesday, Manager Glen Drewitt is expected to open with "Lefty" Burnett or Pat Rooney. Burnett, who hurled during the regular season for the Olla Tigers, turned in a good pitching performance here last Sunday although beaten, and is likely to be the starter again this trip.

However, of Winnboro wins again then the playoff is over and league play for the season finished.

M'GUIRE OPENING CLUB TITLE MEET

Qualifying Rounds For Members Of West Monroe Group Start Today

Qualifying for the McGuire Club Championship Golf Tournament, open only to members of McGuire Park Golf Club, will begin today, and Pro Johnny Myers said entrants would have until next Sunday to post their qualifying scores.

Meanwhile, the long extended Spring Handicap Tournament which got underway last May is due to come to a conclusion at McGuire today with Kenneth Holt, winner of Monday's Labor Day tournament at Municipal Golf Club here, facing E. E. Eaves.

Holt and Eaves tied in their finals match a couple of weeks ago, and are just getting around to their playoff match.

Pro Myers last night said the club championship matches were expected to draw the entire membership of McGuire Club, and urged that they get in their scores as soon as possible. A special feature Monday will be the appearance of a quintet of top professionals of this area in play at McGuire. They will be Winnie Cole, Mississippi Open Champion of Vicksburg; Ned White, Broadmoor Country Club, Shreveport; Collins Gaines, Morehouse Country Club, Baton Rouge; Jean Shirah, Municipal Club, Monroe, and Myers of McGuire.

JOHN M'NEESE ATTRACTS EXPERIENCED MATERIAL

LAKE CHARLES, La., Sept. 6.—(P)—Nearly every football candidate at John McNeese Junior College this year has two or more years of prep school gridiron experience under his helmet, Coach Albert Ratcliff said today.

Ratcliff said the team has a fine array of backs from which to choose despite the fact several key men were lost through graduation.

Triple-threat Wayne Kingery of Lake Charles, a fast 175-pounder will be back for more action. He will have reliable running mates in J. C. Morris, 185 pounds, from Orange, Tex., and Dick Pruitt of Sulphur. Other backs are 190-pound E. J. Boudreaux of Jennings, and 180-pound Leobard Machado of Kerman, Calif.

EVERYTHING ON MAROON SYUAD OUT FOR WORKOUT

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Sept. 6.—(P)—Mississippi State's Maroons went through a two hour scrimmage session today with four varsity teams, the "B" team and freshmen participating.

During the afternoon only two touchdowns were scored and the squad showed up much better defensively than offensively.

Each of the varsity teams took part in both offensive and defense work with the first touchdown coming when Shorty McWilliams went through tackle from the one yard stripe to score.

Other than the two touchdowns the Maroon offense was ragged and indicated the team has a long way to go before their season opener on Sept. 26 against Clanton.

Eagle Matulich, who led the team in scoring last year with seven touchdowns, was running hard but couldn't break away from the defensive teams for any long gains.

The passing as a whole wasn't up to par and several interceptions were made during the afternoon.

PARKER CHOOSES STATE CHAMPION FOR TAG BATTLE

Craig To Side 'Sailor' In Scrap With Rodriguez And Kilroy

Allen "Sailor" Parker renews his tag team feud with Carlos Rodriguez and Kilroy, the hooded mystery man, here Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena, but the Tennessee veteran has called upon George Craig, Louisiana state light heavyweight champion, to be his partner for this week's fuss.

Promoter Kallio last night announced the rematching of the tag team warriors, declaring that Parker had challenged for the brawl, requesting that he be permitted to use Craig in his corner instead of Henry Harrell who was beaten by Rodriguez and Kilroy here last week.

Rodriguez, Mexican spokesman for the opposition, quickly agreed to the presence of Craig.

"Sure, let him have anybody he wants," Rodriguez advised Kallio. "Me, personally, I'm plenty satisfied with Kilroy and think we can beat anybody that comes along."

Kilroy, masked ringman, showed here for the first time last week—at least with the mask—and proved himself an able partner in villainy for Rodriguez who had been beaten in a tag scramble with Parker and Harrell the week before when the Mexican had the colorful Chinese star, Walter Achui, as his partner.

Parker, in making his change of partners, said it was no reflection on the ability of Harrell.

"Harrell is one of the most promising of young wrestlers now coming along," Parker declared, "but I feel that it will take a man of more experience like Craig to match wits with the kind of dirty tactics Rodriguez and Kilroy employed the past week."

The tag feature will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

Two one-fall scrambles, in which the main event talent will take introductory bows, will open the show. Parker will meet either Rodriguez or Kilroy, and Craig will take the opponent Parker fails to draw.

Porter here received his name because its principal consumers after its development were porters and other members of the laboring classes.

Freshman Ball Handlers 'Stealing Show' In Northeast Junior Drills

Redskins Appear To Be Well Fortified With Backfield Talent

Coach James L. Malone put his Northeast Junior College Indians through a two-hour scrimmage Friday to climax the second week of intensive training for the football Redskins, and the Tribal chief last night said the squad was fast rounding into shape and expressed pleasure at the ability of his yet "unknown" freshmen who are making impressive showings in the daily drills.

The freshmen "stealing the show" from the better known talent at N. J. C. are Al Carter, left halfback, Alexandria; Ernest Murphree, wingback, Baton Rouge; Sammy Lebeau, fullback, Baton Rouge; and Doyle Penton, quarterback, Waverly, Tex.

Watching Carter, Murphree, Lebeau, and Penton in action is reminiscent of the great N. J. C. backfield of 1937 of Bob Kellogg, Dick Elliott, "Cotton" Leatherwood, and Tony Veranda that went undefeated and rolled up 307 points against 20 for the opposition.

Apparently Coach Malone has everything he desired in the way of a good running backfield. Penton is one of the fastest performers on the squad, a very good passer, and a fancy ball handler. Carter handles himself on the field in much the same manner as "Jitterbug" Kellogg, the superlative in N. J. C. football backfield history.

Although the frosh quartet is making itself impressive in drills, Malone still has several better known grid-ders on which to depend. Chief of these is Jerry Gregg, star of last year's backfield; Clayton Brown, freshman member of the Indian squad in 1942 and a recent army returnee who is vying with Carter for the tailback slot.

At fullback are Ray Hannon and Tommy Lebeau, while a trio fighting hard for the wingback job is J. M. McBeth, troubled at the present with a bad eye, and R. W. Graves and Ernest Murphree.

Working hard at quarterback in competition with Penton is Woody Boyles, captain of last year's team.

Among the linemen, Coach Malone has a pair of splendid guards in Rudy Broussard, recently released from the army, and Charles "Bud" Cain, outstanding tackle last season who has recently been converted to guard.

Four outstanding tackles, Martin Biddy, Charles Dillon, Gene Grayson, and Lively, are vying for the starting honors. Making progress at ends are Thomas Moncrief, Miller Frey, Jim Minnis, and Turpin Bell. At the center position will be Hugh Smith of last year's club or Donald Minnis, a freshman.

The Tribe opens a nine-game schedule here Thursday, September 18, against Northwest Mississippi.

'ROCK' REED ADDED TO S. L. I. COACHING STAFF

LAFAYETTE, La., Sept. 6.—(P)—J. T. (Rock) Reed, former Louisiana State University and Chicago Cardinals backfield star, has joined the coaching staff at Southwestern Louisiana Institute. Reed's job will be to train the Bulldogs' backfield. Head Coach George Mitchell said today. The new coach's home is Haynesville, La.

Neville Tigers Will Open Football Campaign At Bogalusa Friday Night

Bengals, Playing Only 3 Games At Home, Show Here First Sept. 19

The Neville High School Tigers, who will do most of their playing on strange soil this season, open their 1947 football campaign in the first of six games away from home when they tangle with the strong Class A Bogalusa High School gridgers at Bogalusa Friday night.

Neville will be out to stop Aaron Burr, rated as one of the best fullbacks in south Louisiana and the mainspring of the Bogalusa running attack. Burr, who excels as a break-away runner, will have beside him in the backfield Ralph Billing, left halfback, who although not considered quite as powerful as Burr, is a fast and shifty runner who is expected to be hard to stop.

Bogalusa, operating from the T formation, which information should warn the Tigers of a fast and tricky offensive by their hosts.

Neville will be at full strength for the game, in the opinion of Coach Bill Ruple, who last night said so far only a few minor injuries have cropped up but are not considered serious enough to hamper the Tiger strength. Barring further crippling wounds this week, the Tigers will be able to give their best at Bogalusa.

Coach Ruple plans to take a squad of 27 Bengals on the invasion, leaving here Thursday morning with the intention of working out on the Bogalusa field late Thursday evening. They will be followed Friday morning by the Neville band, cheerleaders, and Tigerettes.

This will be the first time since 1940, when the Bengals opened with Istrouma at Baton Rouge, that the Tigers have invaded south Louisiana for their season opener. It will also mark the first of six games away from home on a schedule that has the Tigers appearing in their home park only three times this year.

After Bogalusa, the Bengals come home for their first game here against Minden the following week, and then they hit the road four successive week-ends against Homer, Rayville, Jonesboro, and Ruston before coming back home for a meeting with Winnfield on October 31. Then they go to Lafayette on November 14, and come back home for a meeting with Winn-Bastrop November 21.

The four successive scraps on the road after the Minden opener at home, include Homer, Rayville, Jonesboro-Hodge, and Ruston.

MANGHAM, DELHI IN SERIES FINAL

Valley League Championship To Be Decided In Contest Today

MANGHAM, La., Sept. 6.—(Special)—The Delhi Oilers and the Mangham Blue Sox, battling for the championship of the Valley League, clash here Sunday in the deciding game of the title playoff.

Each team has one series victory to its credit, the Delhi nine having taken the second game last Sunday by a 9-3 count behind five-hit pitching by "Curly" Senn. The Sox won the first game.

Manager Sam Piro of Mangham has announced that the veteran Jesse Mercer will be his starting pitcher against the invaders, and for the first time in the series the Blue Sox will have their regular starting lineup available. Mercer has been tagged as one of the finest hurlers in semi-pro circles, and with good support can possibly sew up the title for Mangham. Senn is expected to be back on the mound for Delhi.

Officials of the Mangham American Legion Post, sponsors of the Blue Sox, expect a crowd of approximately 1,000 fans for the Sunday game which is likely to draw the top crowd of the season for the league.

WORTHWHILE 'DIET'
UNIVERSITY, Miss.—Jimmy Clark's down to 230 pounds, which is news. During the summer the Belzoni, Miss., boy "hired out" to Tommy Turner, Ole Miss alumnus. The assignment was an hour or running daily, week-ends included. Clark, a Rebel tackle, skidded from 248 pounds to a weight level that forced the equipment manager to take a tuck in his football britches.

GRAYSON'S
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
SCOREBOARD

By Harry Grayson

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(NEA)—

Asked if Leo Durocher will be back as manager of the Dodgers next spring, Branch Rickey says: "Honestly, I don't know."

That goes for most of major-league baseball.

There'll be some managerial changes, player trades.

With an ordinary club like the current Yankees practically running away and hiding at such an early date, and maintaining a lop-sided bulge with a modicum of pitching, how can American League owners be satisfied?

Only two American League pilots can be said to be solidly set—the venerable Connie Mack in Philadelphia and Ted Lyons in Chicago. Mack, who has had an amazingly good year, by the way, owns the joint. Lyons is entitled to another whirl on old acquaintance.

The fortunates in the National are Billy Southworth in Boston, Johnny Neum in Cincinnati and Mel Ott in New York, and the latter has been criticized for early mistakes in casting and handling of pitching. Southworth once more is the manager-of-the-year. Neum put the breath of life back into the Reds.

Dick Muckerman called in most of the Browns before the kick-off, gave them what they wanted. For that the St. Louis Americans are 27 games out.

The ice and fuel magnate never has sat still in business. There is every indication that he is dissatisfied with his organization, so General Manager Bill DeWitt is expected to go. That would open the way for Muddy Ruel to step up into the front office, and popular and able Jimmy Dykes' return to the league as manager.

There is plenty of reason to suspect that Ossie Bluege is through in Washington. A disastrous season. Dis-sension on the club. He took a couple of punches at a baseball writer, after which Clark Griffith called his field marshal home in the midst of a western trip.

Detroit easily could finish second again, but there are indications that this will not be good enough to hold Steve O'Neill's job this trip.

Doc Cramer seemed to believe he had some sort of a chance for the job, but spoke about the opportunity, and consequently may have talked himself out of it.

Tom Yawkey can't understand why the 1946 Red Sox of the tremendous early foot fell so far behind an average Yankee club this time out. Reports have had Joe McCarthy, Lou Boudreau and O'Neill running the works at Fenway Park next spring, with Joe Cronin relieving the ailing Eddie Collins on the business end.

Bill Veck denies it, of course, but reports persist that the progressive young president of the Indians would prefer a different type of manager. Charley Grimm, with whom he enjoyed so much success in Milwaukee, would be first choice. The rub here is that the current strategist—a chap named Boudreau—is the best all-around ballplayer at shortstop in the game and a potential American League batting champion.

Bucky Harris turned in a terrific job with the Yankees, seems headed for the pennant, but his status as manager depends on his personal feelings and the whims of Larry MacPhail. The Old Boy Manager long has aspired to a desk job.

In the National, Billy Herman definitely has not been a howling success in Pittsburgh in his first year as manager.

Philadelphia fell far below "First place heaven in '47," so Ben Chapman could be on the spot.

Chicago stood pat, a grave mistake with every other outfit bringing in or otherwise obtaining talent. For this, General Manager Jim Gallagher is at fault. One yarn has Stan Hack replacing Grimm.

Eddie Dyer admits that he might have been back in the Texas oil fields had any of the Cardinal veterans told Sam Breadon the manager didn't know a baseball from a hole in the ground when the owner checked up on the party while it was still last on June 1.

Each season furnishes additional evidence that managing a baseball club is a highly precarious occupation.

HUNGARIAN 'RED' CALL FOR REFORMS

To Confiscate Earnings Over $225 Monthly; 2 Prices For Commodities

BUDAPEST, Sept. 6.—(P)—Deputy Premier Matyas Rakosi, the top Communist in Hungary, today called for sweeping economic reforms that would include confiscation of all earnings over $225 a month and the setting of two prices on all commodities—"one for the laborer and one for the rich."

In a speech before 20,000 persons celebrating the Communist party victory in last Sunday's election, Rakosi demanded more Communist representation in the already Communist-dominated government, and urged continued war on "reactionaries" and the Hungarian Independence party headed by Zoltan Pteiffer, anti-Communist leader.

He asserted the Communist party must become reconciled with the church, which is led in Hungary by Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, a frequent critic of the Communists.

The Communists, who won 22.3 per cent of the vote in the parliamentary elections, set out an economic program including these additional features:

- 1. Nationalization of the national bank and "all large banks"—which would automatically nationalize 31 per cent of the Hungarian industry—by Oct. 31. The Communists stated previously that they would not include the Communist party bank, which in deposits is one of the largest in the country.
- 2. Confiscation of assets of those "who file false income tax returns" and those "who try to get their money out of the country."
- 3. A government policy of "thrift," reducing the number of ministers from 18 to 12; reduction of the number of under secretaries; discontinuation of "Hungarian delegations at public expense"; reduction of the number of legations and consuls abroad; cutting the number of "official cars."

Rakosi said there was "absolutely no reason" for extending the Hungarian independence party, which he denounced as a continuation of the Hungarian freedom party, headed by Dezo Sulyok, Budapest attorney, before its dissolution.

Meanwhile the Rev. Istvan Balogh, former secretary general of the smallholders' party who organized the Hungarian independence Democratic party in the last elections, announced his group had merged with the smallholders. Father Balogh was under secretary of state to former Premier Ferenc Nagy.

Same Old Dix

Dizzy Dean, the inimitable right-hand pitcher now broadcasting baseball in St. Louis, really lights up as third baseman Whitey Kurowski of the Cardinals passes around the cigars with the news that he was the father of a baby girl in Reading. The Kurowskis' fourth child will be named Georgeann.

New York
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(P)—Late selling pressure against nearby cotton futures contracts dropped prices more than $1 a bale today.

Hedging, which had been apparent throughout the session, increased noticeably in the final hour. Some selling was also said to represent evening up operations prior to the issuance of the government crop report on Monday.

The government's Aug. 1 estimate placed the 1947 probable crop at 11,444,000 bales. The final harvest in 1946 was 8,640,000 bales.

The trade estimated that the Sept. 1 official report would be about 12,000,000 or slightly more.

NAVY SCIENTISTS TO BECOME FIRST 'HURRICANE-BUSTERS'

Seek Gulf Storm To Smash By Dusting Chemicals Into Swirling Air Mass

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6.—(P)—Scientists and the navy's hurricane hunters are awaiting the opportunity to become history's first hurricane-busters. The next great tropical storm to whirl through the Atlantic, the Caribbean or the Gulf of Mexico will be dusted with carbon dioxide (dry ice), silver iodide, or some other cooling crystal which—perhaps—will condense its water vapors, cause a record-smashing rainfall at sea, and dissipate the great swirling air mass.

It will be a cautious experiment at first, because nobody quite knows what will happen when the tremendous energy stored up in a great hurricane is tackled. The experiment may not work at all.

A special B-17 weather-science plane is on the ground at Schenectady, N. Y., awaiting the word that a hurricane has formed. The plane is specially equipped for "seeding" chemicals into a cloud, like a farmer plants wheat.

When the time comes, it will fly into one of the great storms, accompanied by one or more "hurricane hunter" planes from the Miami Naval Air Station. The Miami plane will fly above the storm to photograph the effects of "seeding" by the weather-science plane.

Only a little of the chemical will be fed into the storm the first day, then photographs and observations will be analyzed before a heavier attack is made. The "busting" effort will become progressively heavier until scientists and navy men know what the effect will be.

The plan of attack has been worked out by Dr. Irving Langmuir, noted physicist, who has experimented with the precipitation of clouds into ice, snow and rain. The navy and the General Electric Company are cooperating in the hurricane busting plan.

The hurricane will be attacked at the snow level—at an altitude high enough so that it is probable that snow will form. The precipitation undoubtedly would melt into raindrops long before it reached the sea or land.

What are the possibilities of the experiment? Hurricanes are great, natural engines packed with energy. A fully developed one often measures 300 miles across the area of hurricane winds, with an even larger area of storms and squalls extending in advance of the center.

An unlimited supply of moist, hot air is required for them to develop. A paradox is this: Heat is required to transform liquid water into water vapor. This heat then becomes stored up in the moist air which a hurricane must have to live. But a hurricane precipitates vast quantities of rain, and in condensing water vapor into rain the latent heat is released and adds its energy to the already unbelievable power of the storm.

Weather experts believe that this release of energy in condensation and precipitation is the secret of a continuing source of power which permits a great hurricane to travel as much as 2,000 miles and strike land with undiminished fury.

What would happen if a great part of this energy were released at once by hurricane busters? It would dump 20 inches or so of rain on the surface beneath the storm, but beyond that the effect isn't yet known. That's why navy men and scientists will proceed cautiously.

Other than that, the scientific hurricane busting plan is described by meteorological experts as "potentially the most practical scheme yet advanced for controlling hurricanes."

There have been other suggestions such as bombardment by big naval guns, bombing, and atomic bombing. Capt. Howard E. Orville, meteorologist in the office of naval research at Washington, and Grady Norton, weather bureau storm warning expert at Miami, agree that these suggestions are impractical.

Norton pointed out that a hurricane packs more power than a roadside of shells, or a fusillade of bombs. Their explosive power would be swallowed up and forgotten in a moment by a great storm.

But condensation and precipitation strikes at the source of energy itself, and if experiments are successful, hurricane busting might become a reality.

COTTON INDUSTRY 'BEHIND TIMES'

Claim Foreign Inefficiency, Production Is Threat To American Crop

HILLSBORO, Tex., Sept. 6.—(P)—E. D. White, assistant to the secretary of agriculture, asserted today that foreign efficiency and production methods pose a threat to the American cotton industry.

White, in an address prepared for the state-wide cotton committee of Texas, said that despite today's favorable position of the U. S. cotton industry, "there still exists a destructive threat to cotton."

"Ceaselessly, day by day," White said, "this competition is gnawing away at the very foundation on which cotton rests."

White declared that the agriculture department "recognizes that increased industrialization of the South would greatly decrease the possibility of a substantial social problem arising from the complete mechanization of cotton."

He urged that unskilled laborers displaced in the mechanization be retained and relocated in other segments of Southern agriculture.

If the U. S. gains a lead in cotton mechanization, he said, "it might give us a similar advantage over our foreign competitors."

GIRL RECOVERING FROM DOG ATTACK

Gertrude Krumm, 12, saved from a vicious dog by her mother Friday afternoon, was reported late last night to have had a restless day in the St. Francis Sanitarium where she is being treated for her wounds.

Mrs. Krumm, who lives in the Claiborne community, four miles west of Monroe, rescued her daughter from the dog by beating it off with a small board.

The young girl suffered lacerations of her legs, both of which required stitches. Throughout yesterday she was treated with penicillin. Her condition was reported as not being serious but physicians said that she would be kept at the sanitarium for observation for a few more days.

$200 FUNERAL FOR ONLY ONE MONTH'S PREMIUM

AGENTS WANTED

Hall Funeral Service Insurance Co.

Mr. C. A. Hall Hall Funeral Home Monroe, Louisiana Dear Mr. Hall:

We cannot express in words our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the most unusual service, promptness, and honesty in settling our $200 death claim on my husband who had a burial policy with you only ten days.

When I came to your office about two weeks ago to take out a burial policy on my husband and me, little did I dream that one of us would be dead in so short a time. My husband had apparently been in excellent health, worked every day, was strong as an ox, and was never sick a day, but we both knew it was better to have burial insurance and not need it than to need it and not have it. Ten days after we received your policy, my husband passed away with a heart attack. We called the Hall Funeral Home and they came immediately and allowed us the full $200.00 funeral for which we had paid only one month's premium.

We thank you again and again for the high class merchandise, the dignified, sympathetic service and promptness with which this claim was handled. You are to be highly commended.

Sincerely yours, (Signed) Mrs. J. C. Lyle.

Six charming co-eds, leaving next week for Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, are crowding all the pleasure possible into the remaining days of their vacation. They are prominent figures at the "farewell to summer" dances and small informal social affairs taking place daily. Reading from left to right they are: Miss Frances Whittelsey, Miss Joy Harper, Miss Mary Alyce Jackson, Miss Clea Godfrey, Miss Sally Foster and Miss Jackie Walker. Misses Harper, Jackson and Foster will be members of the senior class at Sophie Newcomb.

FRIENDS FROM THIS SECTION OF SOUTH ATTEND WEDDING OF PROMINENCE IN TALLULAH

In a beautiful wedding which claimed the interest of friends and relatives in this section of the South, Miss Alice Lou Linton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Linton and Dr. Willie Joseph Lee of Little Rock, Arkansas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lee of Magnolia, Arkansas were married at the Methodist church here at four thirty o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. John E. Kilpatrick officiated at the impressive service in the presence of a large assemblage.

The sanctuary was beautifully decorated for the ceremony with cathedral candles burning in graduated floor candelabra, each tied with a sprig of clematis and white satin ribbon. White floor baskets of white gladioli also overflowed with fern and graceful sprays of clematis. The altar rail was banked with clematis and ferns.

Mrs. J. C. Sherwin rendered a program of nuptial music including "Leibestraum", "Ave Maria" and "Airs" and accompanied Mrs. Francis Jordan who sang in lovely voice, "Because" and "At Dawning". During the exchange of vows "Clair de Lune" was played softly. The traditional wedding marches, "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's, marked the processional and recessional.

Mrs. William Paul Barron of Little Rock, matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a floor length model of yellow net styled with square neck, short puff sleeves, close fitting bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of lavender asters tied with lavender ribbon.

The bride who entered with her father who gave her in marriage, was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands, and fitted bodice which was joined to the skirt with points in the center which corresponded with those of the neck line. The long full skirt extended into a regal train that fell from pleats at the waist line. The fingertip veil was caught at the head with a coronet of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of carnations and tube roses designed in heart shaped and centered with a white orchid. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

Dr. William Paul Barron of Little Rock, served the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Fred Lee, brother of the groom and Paul Jameson, both of Magnolia, Ark., and Ralph Linton, brother of the bride. For her daughters' wedding, Mrs. Linton wore black mesh with a corsage of pink gladioli and the mother of the groom wore black sheer with a white carnation corsage.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Guests were greeted by the mothers of the bride and groom and in the receiving line were the bride and groom and matron of honor. Attractive floral arrangements of clematis, fern and other summer blossoms and magnolia leaves were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms and white tapers burned in crystal and brass candelabra.

The bride's table with its handsome linen Irish crochet cover held the wedding cake made in the form of a large wedding ring beautifully embossed in white and centered with a crystal candelabra with prism pendants and holding white tapers and white carnations. Presiding at the table was Miss Margaret Webb who served iced punch from a silver punch bowl. She was assisted by Miss Billye Davis and Miss Anne Bowie who served individual wedding cakes from crystal trays. Miss Nell Hammond assisted in cutting the wedding cake and Mrs. Charles Abraham presided at the guest book. They all wore corsages her B. S. degree in physical education. She recently completed a two year course in occupational therapy at the University of Kansas. She will be employed as an occupational therapist at the Veteran's Hospital in North Little Rock. Dr. Lee graduated at the Magnolia, Ark., High School, received his B. S. degree in Medicine from the University of Arkansas, and in June was graduated from the University Medical School in Little Rock. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Phi Eta Sigma, honorary fraternity and Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity. He is now interning at the University Hospital in Little Rock.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee, Robert E. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Jameson and Paul Jameson, all of Magnolia, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. D. Herman Walker and children, David, Claude and Janet of Taylor, La.

The Young People Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church who will be off for college enjoyed a farewell supper at their last meeting. The buffet supper was served by the parents of the young people.

Following the supper was a worship program conducted by Miss Mary Jane French. The group also enjoyed a piano selection by Frank Wilson and several popular songs that were sung by Jane Shea.

IT'S THE PEOPLE WHO remained at home and went nightly to the RAINBOW INN for dinner who really enjoyed life this summer. Vacationists arriving home tell stories of high prices and the inability to get proper food. THE RAINBOW INN, the south's most beautiful night club, has made life easier and happier for the Monroe public. The food is superb and costs no more than that served in less attractive surroundings. Make a practice of motoring nightly to the RAINBOW INN for dinner or a mid-night supper.

"WHAT A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING..." That's what a bride and her parents want to hear. But large or small, your wedding will present countless problems. The flower problem and the church and home decorations will be the greatest of all and that's why I recommend the WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP. The bridal consultant will clearly and concisely outline the setting for the ceremony, describe your wedding bouquet and the flowers for your attendants. The color theme she suggests for a fall wedding will intrigue you.

THANKS TO BAKAL'S many a hostess has found it possible to carry on during a summer of unprecedented heat. The luncheons and dinner parties at BAKAL'S are really a triumph of culinary art, to say nothing of the cool, restful background. There's never a refusal when a hostess says, "Meet me at BAKAL'S." You feel cool and rested the minute you enter this beautiful restaurant where the cocktail bar in the Pink Elephant room is always surrounded by a gay company. Plan to have your next luncheon or dinner party at BAKAL'S, where the food is really sumptuous.

GOODNESS KNOWS A MOTHER needs all the help she can get in keeping her family well and happy. Above all things the bread served at meal time and for the daily snack simply must be right. That's why it's important that you insist on BROGAN'S SUREBREAD. There's no other bread on the market so moist, so sweet, so rich in vitamins and minerals and so appetizing. It's really important that children be given SUREBREAD whenever they ask for bread. Give it to them in place of sweets and watch how they respond to the health-promoting qualities.

Mrs. Chandler Is Hostess At Tea

Three Hundred Guests Call During Receiving Hours At Chandler Home

It was delightfully cool in the reception suite of Mrs. Julius Chandler's home when she entertained three hundred or more guests during the receiving hours complimentary to Miss Louise Tisdale.

Fragrant clematis and tuberose were used in profusion in the reception suite where Mrs. Chandler in a brown crepe afternoon model welcomed her guests. Miss Tisdale wore a lovely model of pale gray crepe with corsage of pink roses and her mother, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, wore an advanced fall model of black crepe with corsage of white asters and tuberose.

The dining room was candlelight and fragrant with the perfume of clematis and tuberose. The tea table overlaid with handsome Italian cut work had for central floral decor a pyramid of white asters and tuberose. At either end of the table Mrs. C. S. Foster and Mrs. Joe Durrett presided over the cut glass punch bowl.

A variety of luscious edibles including petits fours beautifully embossed, were passed among the guests by Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mrs. H.

Mickel, Mrs. Roy Hale, Mrs. Mildred Swift, Mrs. Clyde Sanders, and Mrs. Walter Rhodes.

Expecting a Baby?
Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium to skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

Purely Personal

It's September now and sunrise comes later, dusk creeps upon us earlier in the evening. Another month and the autumn equinox will be here and daylight will equal darkness. The year has turned summer and is now walking down the long hill toward autumn and the winter beyond. On these scorching hot days such a change seems to run counter to the season as we feel it. We feel now, with the hot humidity heavy upon us, is the summer's peak. It is the summer is already moving down hill, why does the temperature remain here on the summit?

But the trees show the true season and so does the grass growing rusty in the meadows and the tall weeds at the roadside. Golden red shows impatient yellow and the soft green of early summer fades toward maturity. Dog days are virtually over. Another summer seeps away as dusk comes a few minutes earlier each day.

How would you like to drift down the Yellow River in China in a goat-skin boat? Sounds thrilling doesn't it? James A. Noe, Jr., who is making a tour of the Orient experienced such a thrill and writes in the most interesting manner of his trip. He speaks often in his communications of his traveling companion a young Chinese student called "Chic." The following letter from Lanchow is packed with interesting incidents. Here it is:

This adobe city of 100,000 is in northwest China. If it were not for the industry of the people, you would imagine yourself in Mexico. Brown buildings, never over one story, offer no contrast with the brown mountains. So close is the similarity to the north of China with Mexico that the rugs of both places are alike, bright colors predominate.

This morning Chic and I went to the banks of the Yellow River and hired a goat-skin boat to take us to an island several miles down stream. The skin boat was constructed of rope, wood and skin. Fifteen inflated sheep skins which have been made airtight give the boat its buoyancy, while the wood and rope hold the craft together. Being rectangular and having no sides, the boat doesn't protect the passengers from the river's spray, so I can truthfully say I have bathed in the Yellow River.

It is remarkable that one of these skin boats can carry ten men, but weighs only thirty to forty pounds. Lightness is a necessity for these boats because the river is so swift that the boat must be carried up stream. To be captain of one of these odd things you have to be able to take the bitter with the sweet.

How the skins were pumped up bothered me, until I saw the way it was done. The hide, to be inflated, has its right fore leg shaved over the right fore leg of a smaller skin. The smaller skin has a large hole in its top so that air can enter it. When the Chinaman starts pushing down on the small skin he covers the hole with his hand so the air in this skin is forced into the big skin. When all the air is out of the little skin, the hole is uncovered by the Chinaman's hand while he is raising the top of the small skin, then the same routine is followed until the large skin is hard with air. So rapid is this bellow process that the air in the large skin doesn't have time to flow back into the small skin.

Ever in the hinterland like Lanchow, you see the basic machines like the bellows, lever, screw, pulley and the like which have been used here before they were thought of by Archimedes, but these devices have never left their primary stages. Of course, the sole reason for this lack of "follow-through" is that China has never needed any labor-saving devices as America has. Whatever saving is done here is saving of material, not of human labor.

Put in thirteen hours at sightseeing yesterday

Arose at five, dressed, then walked several miles to a Catholic Mission here. We had breakfast at the mission, then left for Ghenghis Khan's Tomb in a five-ton truck with forty-six sisters. If there had been any olive oil sprinkled around, I would know exactly how sardines feel.

The distance between here and Mr. Khan's tomb is one-hundred and twenty li or forty miles. During the ride I saw some beautiful sights. Patches of mountains are planted which are at a fifty-degree angle. Indeed, so steep were these fields that no animal could be used for cultivation—only hand. The sight of mountain tops cut away with constant plowing until a cultivated plateau remained, reminded me of the agelessness and vast population of this land. But then everything you do or see reminds you of this.

From twelve till two none of our bus load could enter the Lema Temple, one room of which housed Ghenghis' Tomb, because the Lama's were praying for the return of Ghenghis. Here, in China, Ghenghis is adored, so he must be a god to the Mongolians. During the war, at that time when the Japanese were pressing into northern Mongolia, the Chinese government removed Ghenghis' coffin to where I saw it, because they feared the Japs would capture the sacred remains and use them to move the Mongolians to fight against China. The plan almost backfired. The Mongolians just about took arms against China because China dared move the great Khan.

The room which houses Khan's coffin has a tent covering all the walls and ceiling, so that the room looks to be the interior of a tent. Ghenghis' personal belongings were in the room.

His spear had over a million, I didn't count them though, hairs on it, and each hair is said to have come from an enemy's head. This could be possible, for Kahn captured a territory larger than the Roman Empire, even so, I am sure we don't need another Ghenghis Kahn.

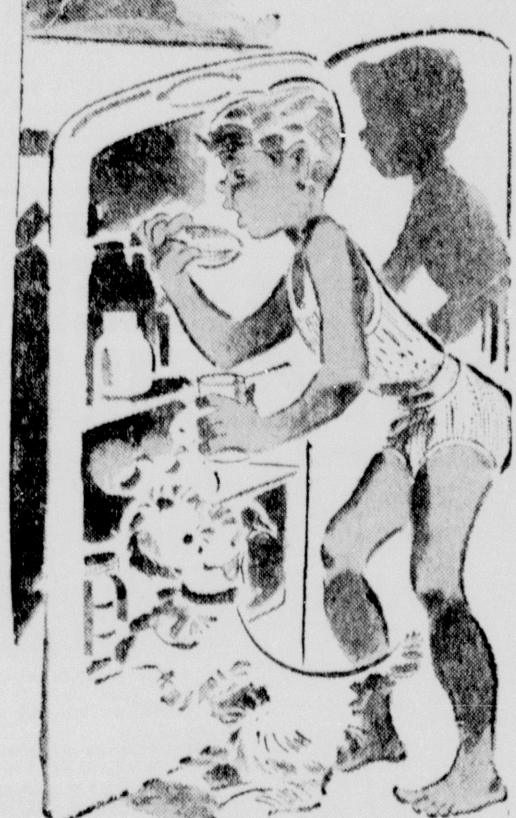

Jim Brennan, an adviser to T. V. Soong, has made arrangements for the government to furnish us three a jeep to Asien Ning, the temple of the Living Buddha. We leave tomorrow. When we return depends on how many pictures Buddha wants me to take of him."

By the General Chennault orders I was made Assistant Co-Pilot and Chic, Assistant Baggage Clerk so we could travel all over China on the different planes.

Carnations, originally were called "coronations," because they were used in wreaths, crowns and garlands.

LONGER SKIRTS IS THE PROBLEM NOW CONFRONTING HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Summer may be your favorite season but as it wanes, thoughts of going back to school put the feminine half of the family into a frenzy of shopping for a suitable wardrobe. This year there is more excitement than usual over the controversial skirt length, which involves more than just letting out a few hems.

"Longer skirts mean the end of flat shoes and bobby socks," said Eleanor Phillips, western editor of Junior Bazaar. "And I believe that high school students will follow the college girl in adopting the new, longer skirt length in spite of their protests now. They won't do it immediately," she continued, "but after a few months their skirts will be sixteen inches from the floor and gradually you will see skirts being lowered even more than that. And flat heels and bobby socks do not go with longer skirts," she added.

Throwing bobby socks into the discard brings stockings back into the picture and the little, freedom-giving girdles with garters will be a "must" for every girl. Active sports will still demand the flat heel but for general wear—even street wear—heels will start at one inch and slowly climb to a really high heel.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel chilly, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this! Many wise "middle-age" women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.

helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

MRS. JAMES BRASHER

Mrs. James Brasher, who before her marriage on August 15 was Miss Dorothy Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Howard, of West Monroe. Mr. Brasher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brasher of Farmerville.

Miss Adams

Is the Bride Of Mr. Cupit

A late afternoon wedding on Saturday, August 30, characterized by lovely simplicity and impressive ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Smith, when Miss Cherry LaVerne Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Adams, of Winnsboro, La., became the bride of Mr. J. Everett Cupit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Cupit of Crowley.

The double ring ceremony was performed against a background of evergreens. This was flanked by tall white candles in floor-length candelabra, on either side of which were white baskets of hydrangeas.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Phil Killian lighted the candles.

Mrs. C. R. Smith, who served as matron of honor was attired in a lovely fall model of navy and rose with a corsage of white asters.

Mr. Phil Killian served as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fall costume suit of navy with hat and blouse of dusty pink. She carried a white satin-covered Bible, marked with an orchid and streamers of white satin ribbon caught with tuberoses.

An informal reception was held following the wedding. The bride's table had for its central decoration a tall crystal vase overflowing with long sprays of white clematis flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra. At one end of the table was a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, which was served by Mrs. Wallace R. Smith, Jr. At the other end of the table, punch was served by Mrs. R. C. Smith.

Miss Beverly Goldsby presided over the bride's book.

The bride attended school in Miami, Fla., and Charleston, S. C., and before coming to Winnsboro was employed by Pan American Airways of Miami.

The groom, after graduating from Crowley High School attended B. M. I. at Monroe, later served two years in the armed service, and for the past year has been employed by J. A. Harper of Crowley.

After a short honeymoon they returned to Winnsboro for a few days before leaving for Miami, where they will reside. The groom will be associated with Bailey Lumber company of that city.

Miss Greenwell Is Honor Guest At A Luncheon

Mrs. A. S. Gunter was hostess last Monday at luncheon in honor of Miss Betty Greenwell. The living room was decorated with red roses and white tuberoses. The luncheon table centerpiece featured figurines of a bride and groom under an arch of sweetheart roses.

A surprise hand-erchief shower was the highlight of the evening.

The guests were: Miss Greenwell, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. A. C. Lea, Mrs. Allan Givens, Mrs. J. C. Anders, Mrs. Frank Jones, Miss Jo Ann Biedenharn, Miss Cornelia McHenry, Miss Betty Sue Jones, Miss Jean McCormick, Miss Mimi Meek and Mrs. Roy Brooks.

Conversational Hour Honors Brides-To-Be

Mrs. J. J. Smith and Miss Gene Smith were hostesses at a conversational hour in honor of Miss Betty Greenwell. Miss Greenwell wore a white gabardine and was presented with a colored aster corsage.

The guests were: Mrs. Greenwell, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. A. C. Lea, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. H. E. Dikard, Miss Mimi Meek, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. L. G. Hughes, Miss Polly Breard and Miss Betty Sue Jones.

Enjoying a pleasant luncheon hour in the air cooled dining room at the Frances hotel were members of the Delta Zeta sorority alumnae of this district.

The presence of Mrs. Frank Quin, who came to Monroe recently to live from New Orleans where she headed the alumnae group of Delta Zetas at Newcomb college, added interest.

Miss Alma Jean Linquist who is an active member of Sigma chapter at L. S. U. told of the plans for the fall rushing on the campus at L. S. U. She left last Saturday for Baton Rouge to take part in the activities of "rush week" at the university.

Others enjoying the luncheon were Mrs. Herbert Steed, Mrs. Credille Calhoun and Mrs. Jack Rawls of Bastrop.

In the Malay Archipelago, as many as 700 different kinds of fishes may be caught in a single location.

Some insects have four wings, others have two, and still others have none at all.

MRS. A. G. MEREDITH

Mrs. Allen Graves Meredith, who before her marriage on August 10 was Miss Jo Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Robinson of Girard. Mr. Meredith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Meredith of Monroe. They are making their home in Baton Rouge, where Mr. Meredith has resumed his studies at Louisiana State University.

Returning home from New York City recently we were privileged to have as traveling companions two interesting Britishers, Mrs. A. Robertson and her eighteen year old son who arrived on the Queen Mary from their home in London and were enroute to Mangham to visit Mrs. Robertson's daughter, Mrs. Frey, a war bride. Mrs. Robertson's husband is a political correspondent in the House of Commons and was unable to make the trip to America at this time with his wife and son.

Mrs. Robertson is a charming, cultured Englishwoman and proved a most delightful traveling companion. She told in graphic manner of the five years of terror in London during the war. She told of her home on Forest Hill being almost completely demolished and the return of the family after each bombing to pick up the threads and start life anew. After hearing this brave English woman tell of the hardships endured during the war we felt that American women suffered very little indeed.

Although the Robertson family possesses considerable wealth they were not allowed to take but 75 pounds each out of England. With such high prices prevailing in America Mrs. Robertson had misgivings about making this small amount cover all of her expenses.

Burford-Taylor Nuptial Event Is Of Interest

A wedding of charming simplicity was solemnized Saturday afternoon, August 30, at five o'clock, when Miss Juanita Burford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burford of West Monroe and Mr. Rogers Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Taylor of Swartz, La., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Blazier, Reverend Filer Seals, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of the two families and intimate friends of the couple. The vows were exchanged in the living room which was decorated with flowers advantageously.

Miss Patricia Dugal, intimate friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a light blue crepe frock, with accessories to match. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. Richard Hare served Mr. Taylor as best man.

The bride wore a beautiful aquamarine model with accessories harmonizing. Her corsage was of white split carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at which time the bride and groom cut their wedding cake, which was a three tiered confection with bride and groom figurines aloft the top tier. After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip.

Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School. She majored in commerce at Northeast Junior College and is employed there presently in that capacity.

Mr. Taylor graduated from Ouachita Parish High. He is attending Northeast Junior College where he is studying to become a radio technician.

On their return from their wedding trip, they will occupy their new home at Swartz.

F. Spoles, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart.

The guests upon arrival were served refreshing drinks in the gardens of the Spoles home where comfortable garden chairs were grouped near the barbecue pit.

The supper was served buffet style from a beautifully appointed table. Trays were laden with barbecued chicken, molded fruit salad, relishes, rolls and potato salad. Delicious home made ice cream and angel food cake was served for the dessert course.

gravy boat and tray and a sandwich tray.

BEAUTIFUL HOME HAS JUST BEEN COMPLETED BY MR. AND MRS. J. H. CARROLL

The J. Howard Carrolls have built a beautiful home, just a stone's throw from the noise and hum of traffic, on a site familiar to many in this city. It is in the section known as the picnic grounds at Catlett Springs and is famed for the stream of cool water flowing through the grounds. The home has been named Redwine for Mr. Carroll's father. This was the ancestral name of Mr. W. R. Carroll's grandparents who left their home near Atlanta, Ga., before the Civil war and settled in Jackson parish.

Shortly after Mr. Carroll returned from the service in 1945, he and Mrs. Carroll started their home with the idea of finishing it when materials were available. The foundation used in the construction was taken from the home of Mr. Carroll's grandfather, who homesteaded land in Jackson parish, and by the use of his own mill, cut the virgin timber more than 30 years ago.

When it came to furnishing their new home Mr. and Mrs. Carroll preferred period furniture yet they wished to combine it with the comfort and the informality of the modern type of furniture. They compromised by furnishing one room in modern manner.

Adjacent to, but not part of the living room is the dining room where long windows give a commanding view of the gardens.

In the center of the home, completely shut off from the living room, is the solarium furnished in gay colors. This room has an entrance to the out-of-door living room leading to the terrace sloping down to a brook formed by a natural spring. When the terrace is completed it will be sheltered from the North wind. A low rock wall will border the terrace in the rear and will serve as a trellis for rambling roses and shrubbery.

The rest of the house is beautifully furnished with antique furniture reminiscent of ante-bellum days when life was lived on a spacious and gracious scale.

From every room in the house a beautiful vista opens up. The garden in every direction slopes gently and is hedged in with massive pines, hickory, sweet gum, dogwood, cypress and other native trees. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll will finish landscaping the grounds this fall when azaleas, magnolias and camellias will be planted in mass formation.

By judicious planning and knowledge of architecture the Carrolls achieved their goal—a happy combination of formal and informal, blended together in the typical southern manner.

INTERESTING TALK IS GIVEN BY MR. WILEY L. ROACH AT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

Members of the Monroe Garden Club enjoyed an enthusiastic meeting in the home of Mrs. George Lester where they were entertained with a constructive and interesting talk by Mr. Wiley L. Roach, prominent West Monroe horticulturist who used for this subject, "Crepe Myrtle."

During the short business session, presided over by Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick, the report of the nominating committee was heard. Officers elected were: Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick, president; Mrs. Wilson Ewing, first vice-president; Mrs. John Breard, second vice-president; Mrs. Ray L. Junod, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Gaines, treasurer.

Hostesses on this occasion were: Mrs. John Theus, Mrs. King Stubbs, Mrs. William Dyer, Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Mrs. J. W. Gaines and Mrs. Lester. Mixed garden flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the reception suite.

Mr. Wiley said in part:

The Crepe Myrtle (Lagerstroemia speciosa) came here originally from India but probably was native to China. There are two species of crepe myrtle in the United States—the Indian type which we have here and the Queen type found in Florida. The latter is probably tender and grows eighty feet high.

The crepe myrtle is a valuable landscaping plant. In landscaping you try to create a picture instead of a collection of plants. The crepe myrtle can be used to create an azalea effect in summer time. Masses of them would make a summer long color effect in red, pink, white and purple.

The old need for big trees around houses is gone. Big trees rob your flowering plants of food. They also require thousands of gallons of water. An air-conditioning system in a house is more efficient than anybody's shade tree. Here is where the older gardener would give the "G.I." some good advice—Naturally the G. I. lot will be part of an old field without any trees. The only enemy which is very destructive to the crepe myrtle is the white fly. Nicotine sulphate will fix him if you hit him.

Soft wood cuttings are best for propagation as they will root and even get large enough to bloom in sixty days time.

Back in ages past when man and the animals like the deer and cow chose sodium chloride as their principal salt, plants chose lime as their principal salt. Some, as the Azalea, want it more moderately. The crepe myrtle is tough enough to grow in very acid or very alkaline soil.

The gardener who is smart and wants a green thumb reputation in the community will always want to keep his soil test near neutral, neither acid nor alkaline. At this soil condition, plants benefit by both acidity and alkalinity. Plants have the capacity for single phase feeding. One root can go find some lime and another can locate and exploit some acid humus. The crepe myrtle is no exception to this good rule.

At the close of the meeting, refreshing punch, sandwiches, and cakes were served by the hostesses from the lace covered dining table. The table was centered with an artistic arrangement of mixed garden flowers in pastel shades.

PHI KAPPA FRATERNITY MEMBERS HOSTS AT ANNUAL END OF SUMMER DANCE

A mammoth Phi Kappa emblem, skillfully designed and outlined with purple and white electric lights flashed a welcome to guests who attended the Phi Kappa annual "farewell-to-summer" ball on the Virginia roof.

All lights were dimmed with the exception of the emblem when the Phi Kappa special was introduced. Only members and their "dates" were allowed on the floor at this time.

The grand march was quite spectacular with the president, Fred Hunefeld and Miss Betty Sisson leading the dancers. Miss Sisson was a lovely

The dance climaxed with a break-fast party at the home of the fraternity mother, Mrs. Francis Barringer. Members and their "dates" present were: "Chuck" Anders and Monita Ann Ritter, J. W. Webster and Helen Hardwick, Creg Whetstone and Ann Boyd, Tommy Phillips and Pat Wadley, Joe McDonald and Lydia Jarman, Stewart Scott and Martha McDonald, Gilbert Marx and Jerry Platt, Foster Bond and Louise Williamson, Leo Miles and Martha Codd, Harry Black and Evelyn Steen, Charles Peavy and Jo Ann Roberts, Arnold Barker and Evelyn Gannaway, Maurice Phillips and Betty Sisson, Billy Bruce and Sharon Anderson, Jack Inabnet and Nora Marie Lennon, Morris Blumen-thal and Mary Coats, Bill Rodriguez and Betty Sue Scott, Jerry Sugar and Betty Dyer, Glen Brown and Joan Meredith, Fred Hunefeld and Jean Gentry, "Bo" Phillips and Bobby Wilde.

Stags were: Bert Bodan, "Sonny" Tufts, Buck Foster, Jimmy Jones, David Watson, Perry Fisher, Charles Perry, Billy Corser, Jack Bridges, Sonny Hodge, Paul Ralsom.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES NOW REVOLVE AROUND THREE CHARMING BRIDES-TO-BE

Three beautiful brides-to-be, Miss Pauline Breard, Miss Bennie Hughes and Miss Betty Greenwell, are being feted daily with gracious pre-nuptial affairs. They make a charming picture in their lovely tulle-trimmed gowns standing together at teas, luncheons and other affairs in their honor.

They looked unusually lovely the afternoon Mrs. J. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. R. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Herbert Dickard, Miss Sue Dickard and Mrs. Franklin H. Jones entertained with one of the largest teas of the season at the Taylor home on North Third street. Miss Hughes wore a beige crepe model with bands of gold beads. The skirt was skillfully draped at one side. Miss Breard wore a turquoise faille model, drop shoulder effect with a pointed basque and circular peplum which extended down the back of the skirt. Miss Greenwell wore a pale green satin model trimmed in ecru lace bertha, bustle effect and a large yellow rose at the waistline.

Clematis was used in artistic profusion throughout the lower floor. Mantles were banked with these fragrant blossoms and tall urns also overflowed them.

The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Nelson Abbell, Mrs. Louis Milner, Mrs. Lucius Hughes, Mrs. Armand Breard, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. Herbert Breard and Mrs. A. B. Hopson.

Refreshing lime frappe was served throughout the receiving hours by Mrs. H. K. Touchstone and Mrs. W. B. Inabnet.

The tea table in the dining room was developed exclusively in white and silver. The floral decor was a pyramid of tuberoses, butterfly lilies and white phlox. Silver trays held a luscious assortment of chicken sandwiches, macaroons, fudge, squares and individual wedding cakes.

Misses Betty Sue Jones, Mimi Meek, Jean McCormick, Mrs. Roy Brooks and Mrs. Billy Edmondson, assisted in serving.

Other pre-nuptial courtesies honoring the three brides-to-be included a luncheon at La Casa tea room with Miss Marne Lester, hostess.

The hostess presented her honor guests with taffeta aprons. The guests were Miss Kay Kugler, Miss Byrnie Handy, Miss Pauline Breard, Miss Pauline Breard entertained for Miss Bennie Hughes and Miss Betty Greenwell Wednesday night at supper. The center piece was red roses and white tuberoses. The place cards were individual corsages.

Miss Breard wore a green striped chambray model. Miss Hughes wore grey crepe and Miss Greenwell wore pink gabardine. The hostess presented the guests of honor with a piece of their chosen patterns of silver. The guests were Miss Hughes, Miss Greenwell, Mrs. Frank Jones, Miss Betty Sue Jones, Miss Jo Ann Biedenharn, Miss Jean McCormick, Miss Mimi Meek, Miss Sue Dickard, and Miss Cornelia McHenn.

Miss Bennie Hughes turned hostess

Friday for a bridge in honor of Miss Polly Breard and Miss Betty Greenwell. Miss Breard wore a green print model and Miss Greenwell wore white print. They were presented with old-fashioned corsages.

Those enjoying the game were Miss Breard, Miss Greenwell, Mrs. Ray Brooks, Mrs. Frank Jones, Miss Betty Sue Jones, Miss Cornelia McHenry, Miss Dorothea Girault and Miss Jo Ann Biedenharn.

NEW FRATERNAL ORDER PLANNED

Nomads Of Avrudaka Proposed For Monroe; Official To Visit

The Nomads of Avrudaka, affiliated with the Knights of Khorassan, is to be established here, it was announced Saturday and Imperial Scribe Edith Stephens, of Akron, Ohio, will arrive in Monroe Saturday, September 13, in order to attend an organization meeting in the K. of P. hall the following day at 2 p. m.

There is said to be a long list of applicants who will rank as charter members, and the organization here will be known as El Miro Temple No. 137.

The Samantha degree will be obtained by a Knight of Khorassan in good standing; the wife, daughter, step-daughter, mother, step-mother, sister, step-sister, or niece of a Knight of Pythias or any auxiliary thereof in good standing at the time of his death; or a person who is now a member or bears the above relationship to a member of a Pythian Auxiliary.

The lesson of the Order "Loyalty" was taken from an old East Indian legend. The word "Avrudaka" translates as "gathering of friends." The words "Nomads of Avrudaka" mean wanderers of or belonging to a gathering or lodge of friends.

The meeting here will be in charge of Mrs. Tracie Sink, Imperial Swami, Houston, Tex.

Stonewall Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, met Thursday. The rank of page was conferred on James F. Moore, T. R. Britton and T. O. Walter. The rank of esquire will be given next Thursday night. Light refreshments will be served.

IN MOVIELAND

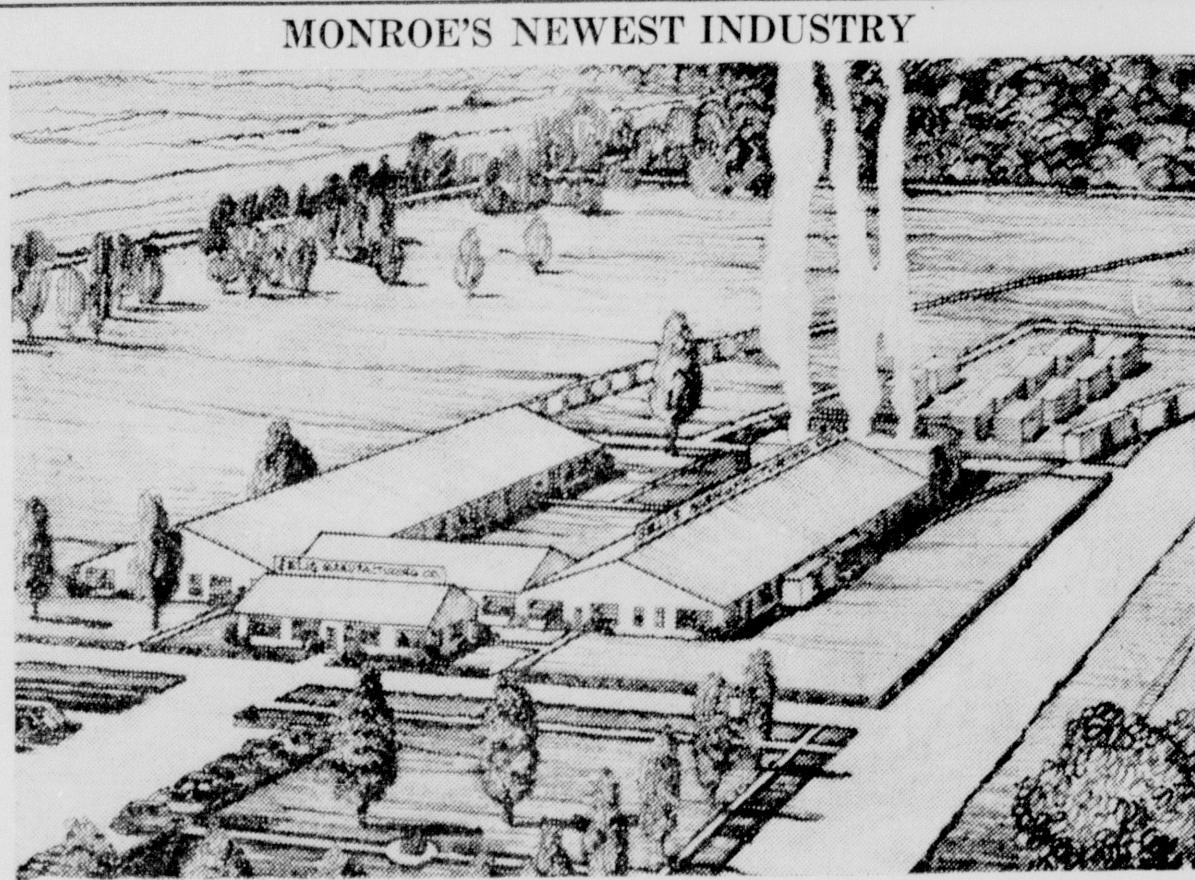

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6.—(P)—Bob Hope says he's ready for television, "but is it ready for me?"

The comic was only joking, but he was serious about the advent of the new entertainment medium.

"The other night," he related on "The Paleface" set, "I was eating at a restaurant in Pasadena. I just happened to look in the bar and I saw everybody gazing at the ceiling with pleased looks on their faces. I thought it was a radio, but it turned out to be a television set."

"All those people were sitting there, drinking themselves silly and watching the wrestling matches. Brother, it made me realize television is the coming thing."

Robert said he had thought a little bit about the day he will have to make the transition from radio, but not very much.

Shown above is the artist's sketch of the Selig Manufacturing company's plant, permit for which was taken out the past week and which will cost in building construction alone more than $200,000. The location is on Thomas avenue at the Missouri Pacific railroad crossing. This industry is being brought here from Massachusetts through efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

"I don't think I'll have to worry," he observed. "The radio comedians who will stay ahead in television are the ones who have had stage experience. They won't have to make much of a change." As for when that time will arrive, he said, "Who knows?" He added that the movies will never have to worry about television's cutting in on the same territory.

Bob told me he has a television set at home, but he has never looked at it. What do you want to bet it's going to see some use in the near future? Rapid Robert always has his eye out for new ways to make an honest buck.

It was on the set of "A Double Life," and Ronald Colman was mellowing about his career. After all, he is pushing the quarter-century mark as a film star, having first thrilled audiences with Lillian Gish in "The White Sister," circa 1922.

"Well," said the impeccable Ronnie, "luck always plays an important part in my successful career, and I believe it is more important in the acting profession than most others. The other factor is the story."

"I have always read and re-read a script before agreeing to do a picture. In doing this, my first concern has been about the story as a whole, then my own part. If I liked both, then I would do the picture. No star can weather a series of bad films."

This Emblem Identifies Great Trucks

Yes Sir! We're sincerely grateful to our Customers and Friends

Demand for International Trucks has been greater than supply. Our customers and friends know that. And our customers and friends have been patient and cooperative.

But a few people seem to think that what is called a seller's market is a bed of roses for the seller. Believe us that just isn't so. Our business is in this community; and when things pile up so we can't take care of our customers and friends as fast as they'd like to be taken care of, we're not in a spot that we enjoy at all.

But there are two things we're proud of: One is the service maintenance we've been able to furnish to keep International and other trucks on the job and to hold operating costs down.

The other is the fine cooperation we've had from customers and friends. Our customers and friends have been mighty understanding; and we want to say, publicly, right now, that we deeply appreciate the fine spirit they've shown.

We urge truck operators now to do two things:

1. To continue to use our truck maintenance service for trucks now in operation. That way they'll get best results until new trucks are delivered.
2. To place with us promptly the specifications for the new trucks they need. That way they'll help us make the earliest deliveries possible.

PUBLIC FORUM

DRIVING CARE URGED

To the Editor: Monroe, Louisiana, September 5, 1947

Appropos of the opening of schools this week I submit the following letter for your consideration in publication:

Dear Drivers:

This week, as our local schools re-open, we shall of necessity place the lives and future of our children into your hands.

This is a great trust.

Most of us have spent much time in "briefing" our youngsters in the care and caution required of them in traversing the highways and streets between homes and schools. We have warned them repeatedly of the importance of looking both ways, of crossing at corners, of not crossing from the front or rear of parked vehicles, of the driver turning into their street from their rear, of the dangers of being too slow or playing in the streets.

Unfortunately, we have had to warn them of the careless fellow, the one who runs through red lights, speeds through school zones, turns corners too fast, comes speeding out of alleys and driveways, backs up at the intersections and of the danger of motorcycles, motorbikes and scooters operated by children a few years their senior.

They listened, impressed. But we know, as do all parents, that they forget so much. That when they become engrossed in their play and conversations along the way they will disregard our warnings in so many instances.

We have fulfilled our responsibility as parents. We cannot all accompany them to and from schools, therefore, the rest is up to you.

We drivers are adults—it is our responsibility to make things safe for these kids so let us all give them a break. Depend on your brakes instead of your horns and remember that although we were once kids the streets were unpaved and ducking our last to get back into professional baseball and the campaign for funds is going so slow that Monroe's chances of ever returning to organized ball look very slim. Any other city would have surpassed the $75,000 goal long ago.

It is surprising to see the number of Monroe people who drive 40 miles to Winnsboro on Wednesday nights to see ball games. And now, Winnsboro, a town many times smaller than Monroe, is seeking a franchise in the Cotton States League. If we sit back and let this small town go ahead of us, we should hide our heads in shame. I haven't any money and know nothing about carpentry but I would be willing to try to help build a stadium, if need be. Come on; let's get back into the swing of things like other progressive-minded American cities and put Monroe back into the sport pages of the United States.

A LADY FAN.

passengers as all well-organized bus lines should, within a half-block of where we were to transfer, the Park Avenue bus pulled out.

FORMER LOCAL NEWSBOY IS TRIUMPHANT IN MISS. POLLS

Hayden Campbell Aids In Putting Over Medical Gains For State

Back in the early twenties a keen-eyed, ambitious young man carried papers for the Monroe News-Star. He was just a little quicker than most of the other fellows in all that he did and he performed with unfailing accuracy. "That chap will make his mark some day," those who knew him prophesied. The promising youngster of some years ago, today a Jackson (Mississippi) advertising man, added another round to his series of advances when the past week he was elected to the Mississippi state legislature in a hard-fought contest.

The man referred to is Hayden Campbell, son of Dorothy Campbell, who was years ago editor of the Monroe News-Star.

Older residents of the city will recall father and son during their residence here. The father, at this time, is a resident of Clarksdale, Miss., where he is associated with a daily paper.

When assured of election, the former Monroe newsboy declared in a statement thanking unnumbered friends who had worked for his success at the polls:

"I want to express my deep appreciation of their loyalty and fine support. We ran this race under many handicaps and credit for the victory belongs entirely to our friends. We shall do all in our power to make the people proud of us as one of the representatives in the legislature. I shall represent all the people at all times regardless of whether they voted for me or not."

Success crowned Campbell's efforts largely through his untiring demand that the state of Mississippi carry out a hospital program of widest possible extent and ultimate establishment of a four-year medical college. This demand spearheaded his campaign and was given state-wide support by the Exchange Club of which Campbell is a member.

Telling of the results accomplished, the "Exchange" in the current issue recounts:

"When a club successfully puts over a project that involves the lives and the health of the people of an entire state, and when that club is an Exchange club, it's time for every Exchange in the nation to throw his hat into the air and let go with a resounding cheer."

"Rated as the greatest and most commendable achievement of the legislature of the state of Mississippi, last spring, was the passage of an act which will provide the people of the state with a 22 million dollar hospitalization program and the ultimate establishment of a four-year medical college. The man in whose brain an idea originated for spearheading a state-wide campaign to arouse public opinion to the need of a four-year medical college is Hayden Campbell, a member of the Exchange Club of Jackson, Miss., who carried the project through to a successful conclusion under the auspices of his club."

In order to appreciate what Exchange Campbell did, it is necessary to understand the health and medical situation which prevails in Mississippi. In the nation at large the doctor population runs about one doctor to a little more than 600 persons. In Mississippi the doctor ratio to population in 1945 was an average of one doctor to 2,200 persons. In some counties the figure ran as high as one doctor to 5,000 persons. Actually, there were only 518 active, practicing physicians in the entire state.

Part of the reason for the scarcity of physicians lay in the fact that medical students had to complete their medical education out of the state, and often they remained out of the state permanently. Only the first two years of medicine were provided in the University of Mississippi. The remaining two years had to be obtained out of the state, and this rapidly drained the state of the best medical talent.

"Hayden Campbell, a newspaperman, brought the matter to the attention of the Exchange Club of which he is a member. The club under Campbell's leadership took over the project of remedying conditions with enthusiasm. A four-year medical college was close to the heart of Governor Thomas L. Bailey, also an Exchange Club member. Under the governor's leadership, headquarters in the campaign for a four-year medical college was set up with full-time secretary. Thousands of letters were sent out. A united committee was formed with Campbell as chairman. A total of over 100,000 Exchangeites pushed forward through the committee and the club received recognition throughout the entire south."

"When the legislature met in January, public interest was intense. Campbell toured the state and talked before innumerable service clubs. It required strategy to get the sort of bill for a four-year college passed by the legislature but this was at last successful and the bill was signed last April 10. It is regarded as the greatest piece of social legislation ever attempted by Mississippi."

This triumph led quite naturally to the election as member of the lower house of Hayden Campbell, a one-time newspaper boy of Monroe.

Amidst the tragic developments in India's progress towards implementing her newly-won freedom, one personality towers above all others as a steady influence, just as it has during the past generation of struggle for independence—Mahatma Gandhi.

Aged and frail, the little crusader remains ninety-odd pounds of dynamic leadership which history likely will record as ranking among the greatest of all time. We have a dramatic illustration of this in his latest hunger strike against Moslem-Hindu strife in Calcutta.

Gandhi had said that he would continue his fast until tranquility returned to the great metropolis. He was able to terminate it Thursday night, after three days, because peace again had settled over the city. However, indications are that he would have maintained it longer to reinforce his position, had he not been begged by political leaders to stop.

Even three days of fasting had greatly weakened the 78-year-old ascetic and there was danger of death if he continued. His advisers were fearful that his demise under such circumstances might precipitate an outbreak of Hindu-Muslim strife which would make the recent savage politico-racial-religious butchery in the Punjab look mild. Gandhi is, of course, the holy man of Hinduism, and his worshipful followers might have vent their grief and anger at his loss on the Moslems.

Gandhi is by far the most powerful individual in the Indian subcontinent but while he has been the greatest of the generals in the campaign for purna swaraj (absolute independence), his main strength is, and has been, spiritual. Untold numbers of the country's 300,000,000 Hindus literally worship him, some of them even prostrating themselves before him, despite his strenuous efforts to halt such manifestations.

It is because of Gandhi's far-flung influence that the British government always has been exceedingly anxious when he was staging one of his hunger strikes against the authorities, which he did on many occasions. None could tell how far the flames of passion would run among his followers if he died.

Had Gandhi seen fit to do so he could have precipitated a terrible rebellion. However, he steadfastly taught his doctrine of non-violence and advocated the use of passive civil disobedience and boycotts of British goods instead of force.

While Gandhi practices Hinduism he doesn't desire that the world be converted to that faith, and he opposes proselytizing among the religious. He has told me that the greatest influence in his life has been Christ's Sermon on the Mount. His teaching of the people is based on this broad philosophical view. That his teachings appeal to more than the Hindus when hundreds of thousands of Moslems and Hindus made what they called a "holy pilgrimage" to Gandhi's "peace mission" in Calcutta.

Two recent appraisals of Gandhi further indicate the caliber of the man. Lord Mountbatten on giving up the office of viceroy and turning the government of the new dominion of India over to the Hindus, warmly referred to Gandhi as the "architect" of Indian freedom. Pandit Nehru, prime minister of India and one of Gandhi's most devoted disciples, praised his master as the "great soul who launched the freedom movement and guided us throughout the dark period of our struggle."

And now in the darkness which is preceding the Indian dawn of peaceful progress, countless millions continue to look to Gandhi for guidance.

FALL GARDEN IS NOW IN ORDER

Planting Time Here For Autumn Vegetables, Mrs. Swift States

Most of the early garden vegetables have just about run their course, but there's still time enough to plant a fall garden, advises Mrs. Mildred G. Swift, associate home demonstration agent.

"If you don't take over your garden area this fall, the weeds will—and that'll mean an even greater weed problem for you next year," she says. "Besides, it'll soon be cooler, and then you'll find that the fall is the most enjoyable time of year to work a garden. But most important, you'll save money and have more and better food."

Mrs. Swift also recommends that gardeners give their soil a lift by applying a complete fertilizer before planting their fall vegetables—use about five pounds of fertilizer for every 100 feet of row, she advises.

"Start planting your fall garden today. You won't regret it," the agent asserts.

Families in the Twin Cities call 3228 for a free fall planting guide.

THE NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

By Max Hall
(Substituting for James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The "glamor trains" are gradually increasing.

Light-weight streamliners, fast and flashy, silver, yellow, blue, green, are the railroads' main hope in a drive to make their passenger service pay a profit in peace-time.

In the two years since the war, the railroads have had some disappointments. They have lost battles to the labor unions. The cost of wages and materials has gone up.

Only yesterday, the railroads asked the government to let them raise freight rates an average of 21 per cent.

One of the railroads' biggest disappointments has been their slowness in getting the dazzling new passenger trains they ordered for post-war delivery.

Very little new equipment was delivered in 1946, because the car manufacturers were having their own troubles getting steel and other materials.

Production now has increased. The Association of American Railroads says 531 new passenger-train cars were delivered in the first seven months of this year. A number of new streamliners have been put into operation.

The association says the roads have placed orders—as yet undelivered—for about 2,500 passenger-train cars.

There is bitter argument over what financial shape the railroads are in, how much wages they can afford to pay, and what rates they should be allowed to charge.

But there is no disagreement that freight trains are the mainstay of the industry.

Passenger service also was profitable during the war—when trains were jammed with people—but slipped back in the red in 1946, according to interstate commerce commission figures.

Whether passenger trains can be made to pay in the future—in the face of airplane and motor travel—is something on which railroad executives disagree. Some executives are optimistic, though, and many roads are determined to give the matter a real test.

That is one reason why they are so anxious for the gaudy new stream-liners that have been so slow in coming. Another reason is that much of the heavy equipment now lumbering over the nation's tracks is 25 and 35 years old.

The first streamliners were a sensation in 1934. They were the Union Pacific's aluminum "City of Salina" and the Burlington's stainless steel "Pioneer Zephyr."

Between 1934 and the outbreak of war, about 170 streamliners were let loose on the tracks, streaking over the landscape like scared rockets. Most of them were in the midwest and west. People liked them.

No streamliners rolling during the war.

The first newly-built streamlined train put into operation after the war was the "Pere Marquette," which started whisking between Detroit and Grand Rapids about a year ago on the Pere Marquette Railroad.

Among this year's arrivals is the new edition of the "Empire Builder," jointly operated by the Great Northern and the Burlington, and linking Chicago with Seattle and Portland.

To start such an enterprise, you have to buy enough trains so that one will leave each terminal city at the same time every day. In this case, 60 cars were bought—five different "Empire Builders" of 12 cars each.

New railroad cars are lighter than the old ones.

The old-style, standard Pullman car, still the main type in use, weighs 82 tons. It is 82 feet long and has 12 wheels. The sleeping car made nowadays weighs only 45 to 50 tons. It is still 82 feet long, but has only eight wheels.

Another important development in railroading is the fast rise of Diesel locomotives. According to the June issue of "Monthly Comment on Transportation Statistics," published by the bureau of the interstate commerce commission, Diesel are hauling 22 per cent of passenger traffic, compared with 7 per cent in 1941.

If the temperature of the earth were 200 or more degrees below zero Centigrade, the whole atmosphere would be liquid.

OPTIMIST CLUB IN WEEKLY LUNCHEON

The Optimist Club held its weekly luncheon Friday at the Frances Hotel and discussed plans for the Junior Optimist Club and the Optimist boxing team. They also made several changes in the by-laws.

Chairman Sylvian Masur called a meeting of the boys' work committee to meet at the Frances Hotel Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. J. C. Lolley and Robert Rainwater were appointed to the boys' work committee.

Joe Haynes resigned as chairman of the district boys' work committee because he is leaving Monroe in a few weeks.

The Clipper collected fines from one member for playing on an opposing softball team and then turning in an article to the newspaper with the heading "Optimists Walloped 20 To 5." Other fines were collected from members for being late, throwing the ball six inches over the Clipper's head, and talking back to the Clipper.

Michat Nametsky, of Prague, Czechoslovakia, is serving a term of life imprisonment plus one year.

RECORD NUMBER SEEN IN N. J. C.

Dean Cline Anticipates All-Time High Will Be Exceeded

Northeast Junior College is planning for a record enrollment for the term beginning September 11, 1947. Advance notices indicate that the all-time high of 814 set in September, 1946, will be exceeded by a considerable margin, states Dean Rodney Cline.

In order to provide for the overflow of newly registered students, the utmost care is being used to make necessary plans for their proper introduction to college life.

Only beginning freshmen are to report to the college on September 11, 12 and 15. These days will be used exclusively to orient, advise and register those who have not been to college before. A fine series of diagnostic tests will be given under the direction of Mr. William Bonifay, of the university testing bureau. These will include: Psychological, English placement, reading ability and mathematics placement.

Second-term freshmen, sophomores, and transfer students from other colleges are to report on Tuesday, September 16, for registration.

All students entering Northeast Junior College for the first time must have their transcripts of high school and college credits previously earned. Veterans seeking to enroll under the G. I. Bill of Rights must have their certificates of eligibility from the Veterans' Administration.

Registration will be under the direction of B. S. Hamner, registrar of the college. An enlarged and strengthened faculty will be on hand to work with the students in providing a good introduction to the work of the new college year.

ASK $6,500 FOR AUTO COLLISION DAMAGES

Damages and injuries allegedly suffered in an automobile collision September 9, 1946, were made grounds for a suit filed in federal court here yesterday by Luther N. Dunaway, of Mer Rouge, against the Traveler's Indemnity Company, of Hartford Connecticut.

In the action, filed by Monroe Attorney C. Elliot Thompson, Dunaway seeks $6,500 "painful and permanent" personal injuries, medical expenses, and damage to his automobile, resulting from an alleged collision with a car driven by J. B. Thompson, identified as a "practicing colored dentist in Monroe."

The petition charges that Thompson was traveling at 60 miles an hour across the intersection of South Second and Apple streets when he struck Dunaway's car, and that he could have avoided the collision by veering to the left.

The insurance company, the complaint says, issued a $5,000 liability policy to Thompson, and is responsible for the entire amount of damages.

C. C. SHEPPARD TO SPEAK IN CHURCH

C. C. Sheppard, of Clarks, will be guest speaker at Laymen's League, First Christian Church at the regular meeting September 8 at 7 p.m. The ladies of the church will serve a supper for the occasion.

Mr. Sheppard is a national speaker in scope and is said to be authority in his business, the lumber and building industry.

All members of the league are urged to be present and bring a guest to hear Mr. Sheppard.

Some flying fox "camps" in Queensland, Australia, contain up to a quarter of a million foxes; one acre of tropical jungle will shelter up to 20,000.

NEGRO SWINDLER IN PARISH JAIL

Arrested After Victim Reports $500 Loss In Confidence Game

A Negro woman's visions of quick wealth quickly evaporated when two Negro men, who promised her a share of the contents of a purse they "found," disappeared with $500 she had put up for security, but yesterday she had the satisfaction of seeing one of those responsible for the elusive fortune locked securely in the parish jail.

Arrested at his home at 24 Short Wood street, the alleged swindler, who gave his name as James Edward Warren, 37, was being held on a charge of theft, Assistant District Attorney H. S. Parker reported.

According to the victim of the confidence game, Nona Mae Wilson, 228 Congo street, a man who introduced himself as Johnnie Williams struck up a conversation with her as she was standing in front of the post office about 2 p. m. August 8. As they were talking, she said, another man came up to them with a purse which he said he had found on the curb.

The two men examined the contents, she told police, and said it contained $1,600. They proposed splitting it up among the three of them, provided the woman would put up $500 as evidence of "good faith."

The woman said she had only $25 with her, but took them she could get more at her home in Litroe. One of the men, she said, ordered a cab, and accompanied her to Litroe where she obtained $200 of her own and another $300 which her husband had entrusted to her mother.

They returned to Monroe, she related, and after her escort paid a $17.50 cab fare, rejoined their partner-in-riches. The two men, she continued, then told her they were going to talk it over with their "boss man," started south on Jackson street, and vanished for good.

Parker said the scheme was probably launched when the two men saw her pay for some shoes with a $20 bill, and deduced there was more where that came from.

FORMER FRANKLIN SHERIFF IN RACE

WINNSBORO, La., Sept. 6.—(Special)—Edward T. Randall, of Winnsboro, former sheriff of Franklin parish, is the first candidate to announce his candidacy for sheriff in the next election. This election is to be held next January.

Mr. Randall has been a resident of Winnsboro for 39 years. He was the sheriff of Franklin parish for eight years ending in 1944 when he was defeated by Allen L. Price.

Mr. Randall states that his platform will be released at a later date, and that between now and the election he will try to contact all the voters personally.

LITTLE THEATRE SLATE TRYOUTS

'Hay Fever' Will Be Presented; Local Talent Is Invited

Tryouts for the first Little Theatre play of the 1947-48 season, "Hay Fever," by Noel Coward, will take place Monday, September 15, and Tuesday, September 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Georgia Tucker School, Miss Kay Crandall, director of the Little Theatre announced today. At the same time, all those interested in any phases of backstage and production work should register and meet Miss Crandall to discuss plans.

The play, one of the cleverest to come from the ever-fertile pen of Noel Coward is a revival for Monroe. When produced here several years ago, it was such a smash-hit, it is being revived by popular request.

Laid in an English country house, the action takes place on a Saturday afternoon, evening, and Sunday morning, when a rather unusual English family finds itself saddled with four equally unusual house guests.

The play is filled with excellent acting roles, including that of Judith Bliss, a retired actress who has adopted as her latest role that of the mellow wife and mother on a country estate, and it is a role she plays with as much sense of the dramatic as any she ever starred in in London. But her adoration of the attention she knew as the toast of London cannot keep her from being enthralled by the very young and very adoring young men who remember her greatest triumphs. And one of these she has invited down for the week-end, in the person of Sandy Tyrell, a fresh-looking young man with an unspoiled, youthful sense of humor.

Her husband, David Bliss, spends a great deal of his life closeted in his own room writing, but he too takes advantage of the week-end to invite a young girl, Jackie Coryton, to come down to provide him a possible character for his book.

The so-called bloom on the callously actually is a leaf and not a flower at all.

KINDERGARTEN TO OPEN

The Martin Temple Community Kindergarten will begin its session September 22. All children desirous of attending this school will begin registration on that date. The supervisor, Marie M. Penn, also announces that first grade will be added to the curriculum. The school is located at 1904 Adams Street.

FINE WAY TO SPEND OUR CAMPING TRIP, MR. GUPPY... I'M GETTING TIRED POINTING THIS GUN AT OUR MYSTERY MAN...

I'M AT A LOSS TO KNOW THE PROPER PROCEDURE... IN SHORT, WHAT'LL WE DO?!

HM... FIRST WE LAND ON THIS ISLAND IN A STORM... THEN OUR CANOE AND SUPPLIES DRIFT AWAY...

AND AT THAT CRUCIAL MOMENT THIS MAN TURNS UP POINTING THAT REVOLVER AT OUR HEADS...

HE TELLS US HE'S A WRITER, BUT ALL HE BROUGHT ALONG WAS THIS PICK AND SHOVEL...

HE CAME TO BURY SOMETHING!

DO YOU FELLOWS REMEMBER FABULOUS FELIX?!

THE BANK ROBBER?!

YEAH.... I MIGHT AS WELL TALK... I CAME HERE TO DIG!

YOU MEAN YOU KNOW WHERE HE BURIED HIS LOOT?

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

THE PAPERS SAID HE DIED A MONTH AGO IN PRISON... AND THAT HE DIDN'T TELL A SOUL...

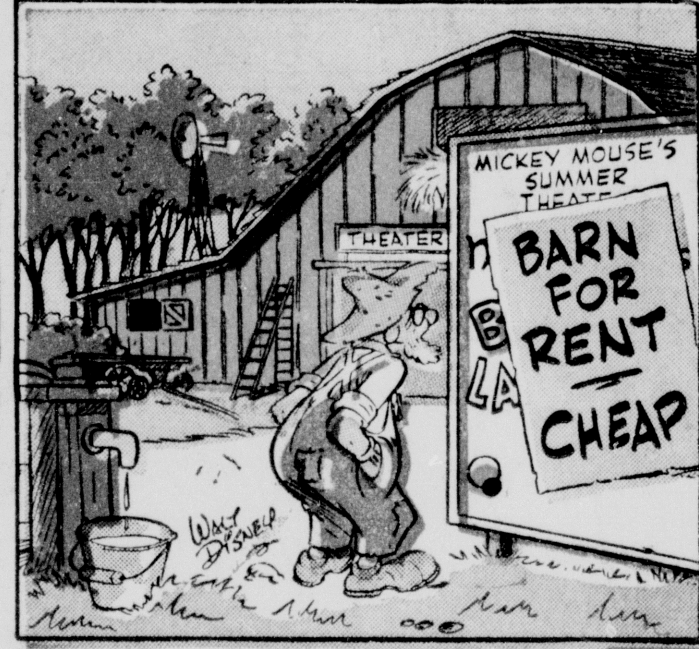

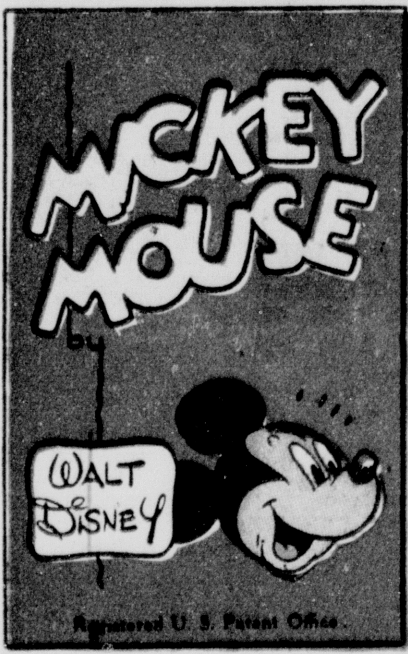

HE TOLD ONE PERSON... HIS BROTHER... ME!!

I'VE GOT THE MAP... HE SLIPPED IT TO ME... IT SHOWS THE EXACT LOCATION OF A MILLION BUCKS! YOU LOOK LIKE SMART GUYS... I'LL CUT YOU IN FOR HALF...

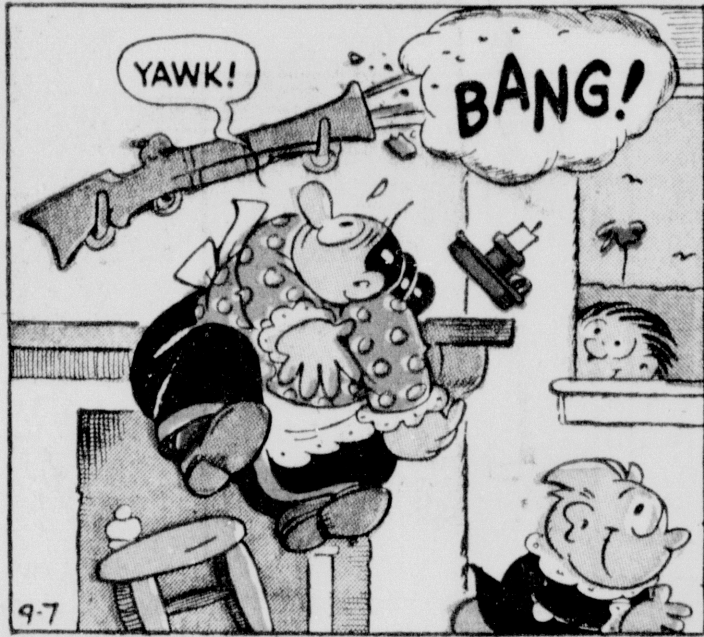

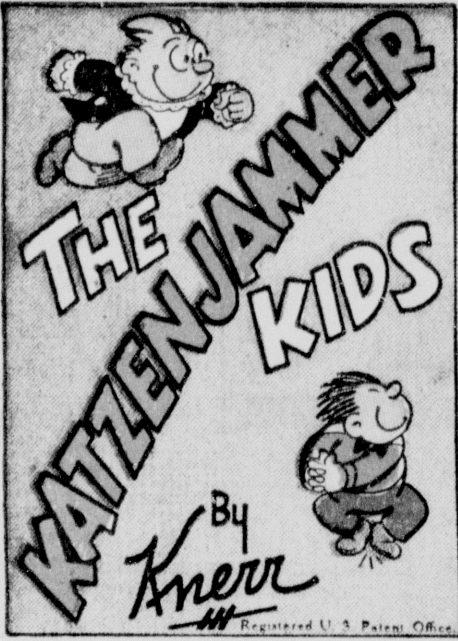

MY YOUNG FRIENDS AND I WILL DISCUSS YOUR OFFER IN PRIVATE, THEN TELL YOU OUR DECISION!

AND THEN!
